Political action group forms, tells goals

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Alliance for Better Government, a political action group, has made its presence known in Antioch this week by supporting 13 precinct committeemen. The goal of this group is to address quality of life issues for the changing population of Antioch.

The group, comprised of local residents, intends to form an alliance to address the response of local government officials to area concerns and support discussions and solutions to these problems. Specifically, the group's goals are to educate and share information, provide a unified voice in economic and environmental issues, ensure adequate response by elected officials, promote legislation, and support the election of those public officials who are responsive to area concerns.

According to the group's secretary, Carolyn Jonites, the formation of the group has been under discussion for

'The Alliance for Better Government intends to address issues and promote public policies concerning economic development, proposed land use, recycling, area lakes and community interaction.'

—Carolyn Jonites

several months. The formal organization will occur after the holidays, and all area residents are encouraged to participate.

"Antioch and the surrounding area is in the process of changing from a largely rural recreation area to a much more urbanized, heavily populated region," explains Jonites. "The Alliance for Better Government intends to address issues and promote public policies concerning economic development, proposed land use, recycling, area lakes and community interaction. We will provide a forum for open discussions with governmental bodies and a vehicle for collective action to address the concerns of area residents."

The precinct committeepersons supported by the group are: Roy Sackschewsky (Dist. 1-R), Judy Martini (Dist. 3-R), Larry Hanson (Dist. 4-R), Norm Geary (Dist. 5-R), Paul Wanthall (Dist. 6-R), Jim Leonhardt (Dist. 7-R), Phil Bielawski (Dist. 8-R), Patty Bletsch (Dist. 9-R), Leon Booth (Dist. 10-R), Vince Lightfoot (Dist. 11-R), Wayne Foresta (Dist. 12-R), Len Mattson (Dist. 13-R) and Pete Lezaeu (Dist. 14-R).

The chairperson for the group is Roy Sackschewsky. Jonites is secretary and Theresa Kloster is treasurer. Anyone interested in becoming involved, or for more information call 395-7214 or 395-7371.

Crime statistics dubious

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The state has released the Uniform Crime Report for 1992 which seems to imply Antioch has a crime problem. However, at least for Antioch, the numbers do not tell the whole story.

The state compiles the crime statistics on a voluntary reporting system. Each police department provides the state with the totals of different crimes. Yet, some areas include every type of crime, other departments only include serious crimes.

It was reported in a daily newspaper last week that Antioch rated the second worst area for crime in Lake County.

Hainesville was rated the worst. The calculation was based on the number of crimes per 1,000 residents.

According to the article, Antioch and Hainesville had a higher crime rate per 1,000 than Waukegan. But, what the report did not tell the readers is that Antioch reports every crime to the state including vandalism, shoplifting and other minor offenses. On the other hand, Waukegan does not report any of these types of minor offenses.

Antioch had virtually no violent crime in 1992. There were no homicides, rapes, or armed robberies. Yet going just by the

'Messiah' to be performed

On Sunday, Dec. 19, at 7:30, G.F. Handel's "The Messiah" will be performed at St. Peter's Church in Antioch. The concert, underwritten by sponsors of the Antioch Community Chorus, will be presented as a free gift to the public.

The Messiah is one of the most beautiful and traditional of all Christmas concerts. The chorus is under the direction of Ralph Brooke, with Chris Kusher assisting at the keyboard.

Jennifer Layman will mark her oratorical debut as a soloist in this year's presentation. Layman has extensive experience in the fields of opera and musical theater.

St. Peter's has hosted the concert for the last few years. The Messiah is a production of Festival Arts of Antioch.

The Tim Montalvo String Quintet will be featured as well as returning soloists Eva Harper as alto, David King as bass, and Ken Smouse as tenor.

This traditional concert is open to the public and is a fitting climax to the holiday season.

SHS Give-A-Thon provides happy holiday

LINCOLNSHIRE — Students at Stevenson High School hope to raise $20,000 in Give-A-Thon '93 to help the needy in southern Lake County. Classes, clubs and organizations at Stevenson volunteer to sponsor families who lack the resources to have a comfortable and enjoyable holiday. The groups solicit donations of food, clothing, blankets and household products and provide a $15 gift for each person in the family. The items will be gathered at the school Dec. 16, when the students will prepare them for delivery.

Board's move would restrict train whistles

LIBERTYVILLE — In response to complaints from several residents in the past year have prompted the Libertyville Village Board to draft an ordinance that would prohibit trains from blowing whistles at railroad crossings during non-peak traffic hours.

The board voted 5-1 to allow the city staff to draft an ordinance that would ban conductors from blowing whistles along the Metra/Milwaukee Rail Road line between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. with certain exceptions.

Eckmann said the recently installed crossing gates at Butterfield and Winchester roads would now allow the village to consider such a restriction.

First Midwest Bank adds Grayslake branch

GRAYSLAKE — Customers of the First Midwest Bank will find five drive-up lanes and a drive-in cash station automatic teller machine among the amenities offered by the new branch bank at 41 North Lake St. in Grayslake. First Midwest offers a number of accounts that feature special privileges and the lobby will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., Friday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. Drive-up hours are 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. A gala grand opening is planned for the new branch next month, but the facility will officially open Dec. 17.

Vernon Hills absorbs the last of Half Day

VERNON HILLS — The Vernon Hills village board voted to annex a 45-acre parcel of land centered at the intersection of Route 21 and Route 45. The unincorporated area known as Half Day had buffered the two communities. According to officials from both villages, the stakes are higher than just a strategically located corner. Lincolnshire has been targeting the area for retail and commercial development for years. Retail-rich Vernon Hills may look at it for the same reason. But the village also wants to have a say in the future of Route 45. Mayor Barbara LaPiana said the move came as a surprise to the Lincolnshire village board. LaPiana also said the village would look into its legal options.

Coast Guard to hold boating safety class

FOX LAKE — "Boat Safety and Skills" classes will begin Jan. 11, 1994 at Grant Community High School at 285 E. Grand Ave. Fox Lake. Bob Noren from the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary will be conducting the 6-week course every Tuesday evening starting at 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for students, but a fee of around $10 will be charged for books only. The class will focus on boat operation, seamanship and aids navigation. For more information, please contact Bob Noren at (708) 356-1612.

Reward offered for return of decorations

GRAYSLAKE — Doug Rockenbach, of Rockenbach Chevrolet, has offered a reward for the return or information concerning the theft of a 5' Teddy Bear and an antique Santa Claus that were stolen on two separate occasions from the Christmas display at his residence in Grayslake. Rockenbach has posted a $100 reward. Call (708) 223-8651 and ask for Doug, if you have any information concerning this theft.

Former village president denies new accusations

KILDEER — Former Village President George Welch has denied any wrong doing in connection with accusations of mismanagement of public funds levied by Trustee Todd Swim, who said little to no documentation was submitted for monthly disbursements for his car phone bills during his tenure which ended this past April. Welch said his job keeps him on the road most of the time, which limited him to using his car phone for both company and village business. After the first few years, he said it was determined the amounts used for village business were similar each month, and a fixed number was set. He also said the money compensated his business and not him.

Martini candidate for Lake County Board

ANTIOCH — Judy Martini has announced that she will be a Republican candidate for Lake County Board in District 1, Antioch. Martini is challenging incumbent Jim Fields. Martini is a director on the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency and is an appointed member of the Special Area Management Planning Commission (SAMP). One of the key issues in Martini's campaign is representation. She is particularly proud of her availability to her constituents.

Operation Cheer brings veterans holiday joy

NORTH CHICAGO — "Operation Christmas Cheer" will pay its annual holiday visit Dec. 19 to three area military establishments, bringing Christmas closer to some otherwise lonely veterans. The program, in its 26th year, will make stops at the North Chicago Veterans Administration Hospital, the Great Lakes Naval Hospital and the Great Lakes Recruit Training Center.

Service station gets fined for illegal sale

LINDENHURST — Clark Oil was hit with a $1,000 fine and a 60-day suspension for knowingly selling beer to minors. This was the sixth time in nine years the station has been caught. Mayor Paul Baumunk warned other businesses who are found selling alcohol to minors will be dealt with harshly. The fine was a result of a plea bargain with the lawyer of Clark Oil and Village Attorney Paul Phillips. The suspension will take effect after Jan. 1.

Village mourns death of friend at funeral service

WAUCONDA — More than 300 people attended funeral services held for Brian Christiansen of Wauconda, as he was fondly remembered by friends at the Evangelical Free Church of Wauconda. He died Dec. 10 at Vencor Hospital in Sycamore after remaining in a coma for four months since suffering massive head injuries sustained in a traffic accident Aug. 5, when his pick-up truck was broadsided by a gravel truck on Route 12 at Old Rand Road. He was 45. "Brian was the kind of person that went around and tried to make everybody's day a little brighter," said Mike McIntyre, a friend and owner of Pizza Sam's in the village. He is survived by his wife, Deborah; his son, Brett; his daughter, Kylie; his mother, Dorothy Christiansen of McHenry; a brother and two sisters.

Initial talks for proposed senior housing started

LAKE ZURICH — A Chicago church has approached Lake Zurich officials about building a planned development which would include a church, senior citizen housing and a nursing home on 19 acres it owns in the village. Representatives of Good Shepherd Bible Church, in Chicago, have been working with Lake Zurich officials on the proposal and met with trustees at a committee meeting. Preliminary plans call for building up to 120 apartments and a 150-bed nursing home. The representatives will likely wait to present any plans to the village until the revisions to the zoning code are completed, which will include a Planned Urban Development, something the church officials had asked about.

Rte. 53 plan includes two Mundelein exits

MUNDELEIN — Representatives from the Illinois Department of Transportation met with the Mundelein village Board Dec. 6 to bring them up to date on the Route 53 extension project. The plans call for two entrance-exit ramps affecting Mundelein: one along Midlothian Rd. between Gilmer and Rte. 83, and the other at Peterson Rd. The road will be built below grade, with all cross streets bridging over it. The board hopes the Tollway Authority will be as cooperative as IDOT has been and work with the Corridor Planning Council.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

Hound dog is back

Fantastic news. Elvis Presley is alive and doing well here in Antioch. I was having dinner at the Vault restaurant and saw Elvis eating dinner with his mother and father. I asked for his autograph and he told me that he would be appearing at the PM & L Theater in 1994. Elvis is alive!

He has been there

Only one response comes to mind about your childish comment, "You must be kidding." Taking drugs is not okay and it could hurt you. As to legalization, there are already enough people roaming around in an abnormal funk. Take it from one who has been there and back, think about it if you can.

It's Santa

This is a wake up call. Many of our country's children are full of fears and are terrified everyday. They are neglected and ignored. One of the worst things that can happen to a child is to feel unwanted. What can I do to make this world a better place for children? I am going to play Santa Claus in a local shopping center. What can we do? If we find the time and love, we can make our children's world a better place. Happy Holidays.

Dangerous goals

People in Chicago and elsewhere should wake up. The ALF group that started fires in stores last weekend have a shocking goal. Just read their literature. They are after fur, then leather, then no meat, then no pets. I can't wait till they bomb the meat sections of Jewel. They have already attacked McDonalds and KFC's in other states. Their goal is for animals to have the same rights as people.

Wants censorship

I was shocked to discover that my daughter came upon the books Joy of Sex I and II in the Round Lake library when she was trying to do research on another project. The librarian said there was nothing wrong with those books and if I did not want my kids to see them, I should go with them to the library to supervise them. Do parents want those books in the library?

Problem still there

Problems are gone, wrong. I have lived on Watson for 13 years. The only problem is the person who lives on the street. Friendly advice, leave the people alone who no longer live there.

Unfair treatment

We have a Libertyville address but have been barred to get the proper parking stickers for the train station. We use Libertyville for all of our shopping and business. The people who live in unincorporated Libertyville should not be punished.

Voters, wake up

A big one-fingered salute to Phil Crane. He, despite being in bed with the NRA, wouldn't keep the Brady Bill from being passed. Someday, the voters in this state are going to wake up, Mr. Crane, and then you are going to have to get a real job.

Drive the limit

I'm sick and tired of the way people drive in Antioch. You all drive as though you're on the Indianapolis 500 speedway. Everytime I try to cross Main Street, I take my life into my hands. When someone is in a crosswalk, the driver is supposed to stop and yield right-of-way. Instead you fools try to plough people over. Get a clue, will you.

Hainesville safe

I'm calling about the top five crime rates in Lake County and I think it's utterly ridiculous that Hainesville was in the lead even above Waukegan. It's a fluke, obviously, Hainesville's stats were skewed by their small population. Come on, the only thing that could probably happen in Hainesville is you get trampled by a cow.

Too much fiber

We ordered a pizza from a place in Lindenhurst and in the middle of eating it, my husband began to choke on a piece of wood. Small, yes, but it choked him. I called the restaurant and they said they would check. They did not seem sorry and they never offered any complimentary item.

Whoops

North Chicago Police Department should be busy about the business of the city, not fighting an alderperson about a ticket. While they were doing that, a dry cleaner was robbed.

Let em eat road kill

I am calling in response to "Real punishment." The guy said the food was inedible. Well blankety-blank. My opinion, it should be road kill. That is what they deserve to eat. We should spend our tax dollars feeding people who have done a violent crime? I don't think so. Spend the money on the schools and let the convicts eat road kill. Merry Christmas.

CASA seeks volunteer advocates for children

Children in Lake County now have someone to speak up for them in the courts.

The Lake County Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) program is in its beginning stages. Volunteer advocates work to protect the right of abused and neglected children in the Lake County juvenile court system.

"There was no program here," said

by SUZIE REED

Lakeland Newspapers

Diane Friese of Hawthorn Woods, executive director of the program. "I felt it would be something to explore."

Friese, a veteran of CASA in Cook County, talked to the Department of Children and Family Services and consulted Judge Margaret Mullen of the juvenile court system before getting the go-ahead to set up the program.

The Health Department has donated office space at 3004 Grand Ave. and Friese and her staff are busy getting organized.

"Our long-range goal is to have a CASA volunteer for every child brought into the system," said Friese. "It gives the court an extra set of eyes and ears."

The duties of these volunteer advocates include visiting the homes of children in the courts, interviewing the families, then reporting the findings.

"It allows the collection of more material for when the case comes before the judge," said public relations director Irene McMahon. "The volunteers have more time and can be more consistent."

Sue Veatch, case manager, is in charge of volunteer training, which involves extensive screening, personal interviews and about 30 hours of instruction.

"We teach them investigative techniques and how to put the pieces of the puzzle together," said Veatch. "We caution them to be very objective, to bring back what they see out in the field."

Advocates learn about cultural diversity, child development, interviewing techniques, mediation skills, and how to present a case in court. They are also taught how to recognize medical problems, substance abuse, and other problems they may be dealing with.

When a child is assigned to a volunteer, that person will stay with the case until it is closed.

About 12 hours a month are required of a volunteer advocate.

"Volunteers who get through the training process have the professional commitment we need," said Veatch. "We don't want to have our cases fall through the cracks. We don't want to let a child down again."

The first training class for CASA volunteers is scheduled for February. Around 30 caring individuals have signed up. Sessions will be held on Saturday.

For more information on becoming a CASA volunteer advocate, call 438-7001.

Sis establishes fund to help

by TINA L. SWIECH

Jeff and Debbie Allard, lifelong residents of Mundelein have gone through some very rough times this past year.

While Debbie was in the hospital receiving a lifesaving double pancreas/kidney operation, her husband Jeff was nearly killed in a work-related accident.

Both kept in contact by phones from hospital rooms. Jeff is on workman's compensation, and Debbie must take anti-rejection drugs and other various medications on a daily basis to keep her new organs in order, and to keep her alive. The average monthly prescription bill for Debbie is $1,200.

Because Jeff cannot work due to his accident, the couple is having a very hard holiday this year. Brenda Allard of Fox Lake, Jeff's sister, set up a fund called the "Allard Family Fund" at the First of America Bank in Mundelein. So far they've received two donations, one from Paul Stefan of Stefan Builders in Mundelein, and the other from Norm Cutler of Cutler's True Value in Mundelein. Donations can be made at any of the First of America Banks in Lake County.

Winter water camp

The Lake County Family YMCA will be offering a Winter Water Camp for grades kindergarten to eighth grade during the Christmas break Dec. 20 to 27 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Each days format will consist of skill instruction, games, review of days lessons and supervised open swim. Games in the pool include: scavenger hunts, boating, water sports, carnivals and more. Camp has a limited enrollment, first come first served basis. Session I is Dec. 20 to the 23. Session II is Dec. 27 to 30. Call the YMCA at 360-9622.

Toys for Tots

A reminder to all Antioch area residents that the Antioch Sequoit VFW Post 4551 is accepting unwrapped new toys in cooperation with the US Marine Reserve for the "Toys for Tots" program. Toys can be dropped off Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon. The Post is located at 75 North Avenue in Antioch. Open up your hearts to make this a wonderful Christmas for all.

Emmons referendum

Emmons School Board, the administration, staff, and parents have been working on plans for a building referendum on March 15. The school is looking for a 14 classroom addition to meet the needs of increased enrollment. A campaign will kick off in Jan. that will fully inform residents throughout the district. The school is asking for volunteers to help spread the word about the critical need for increased space.

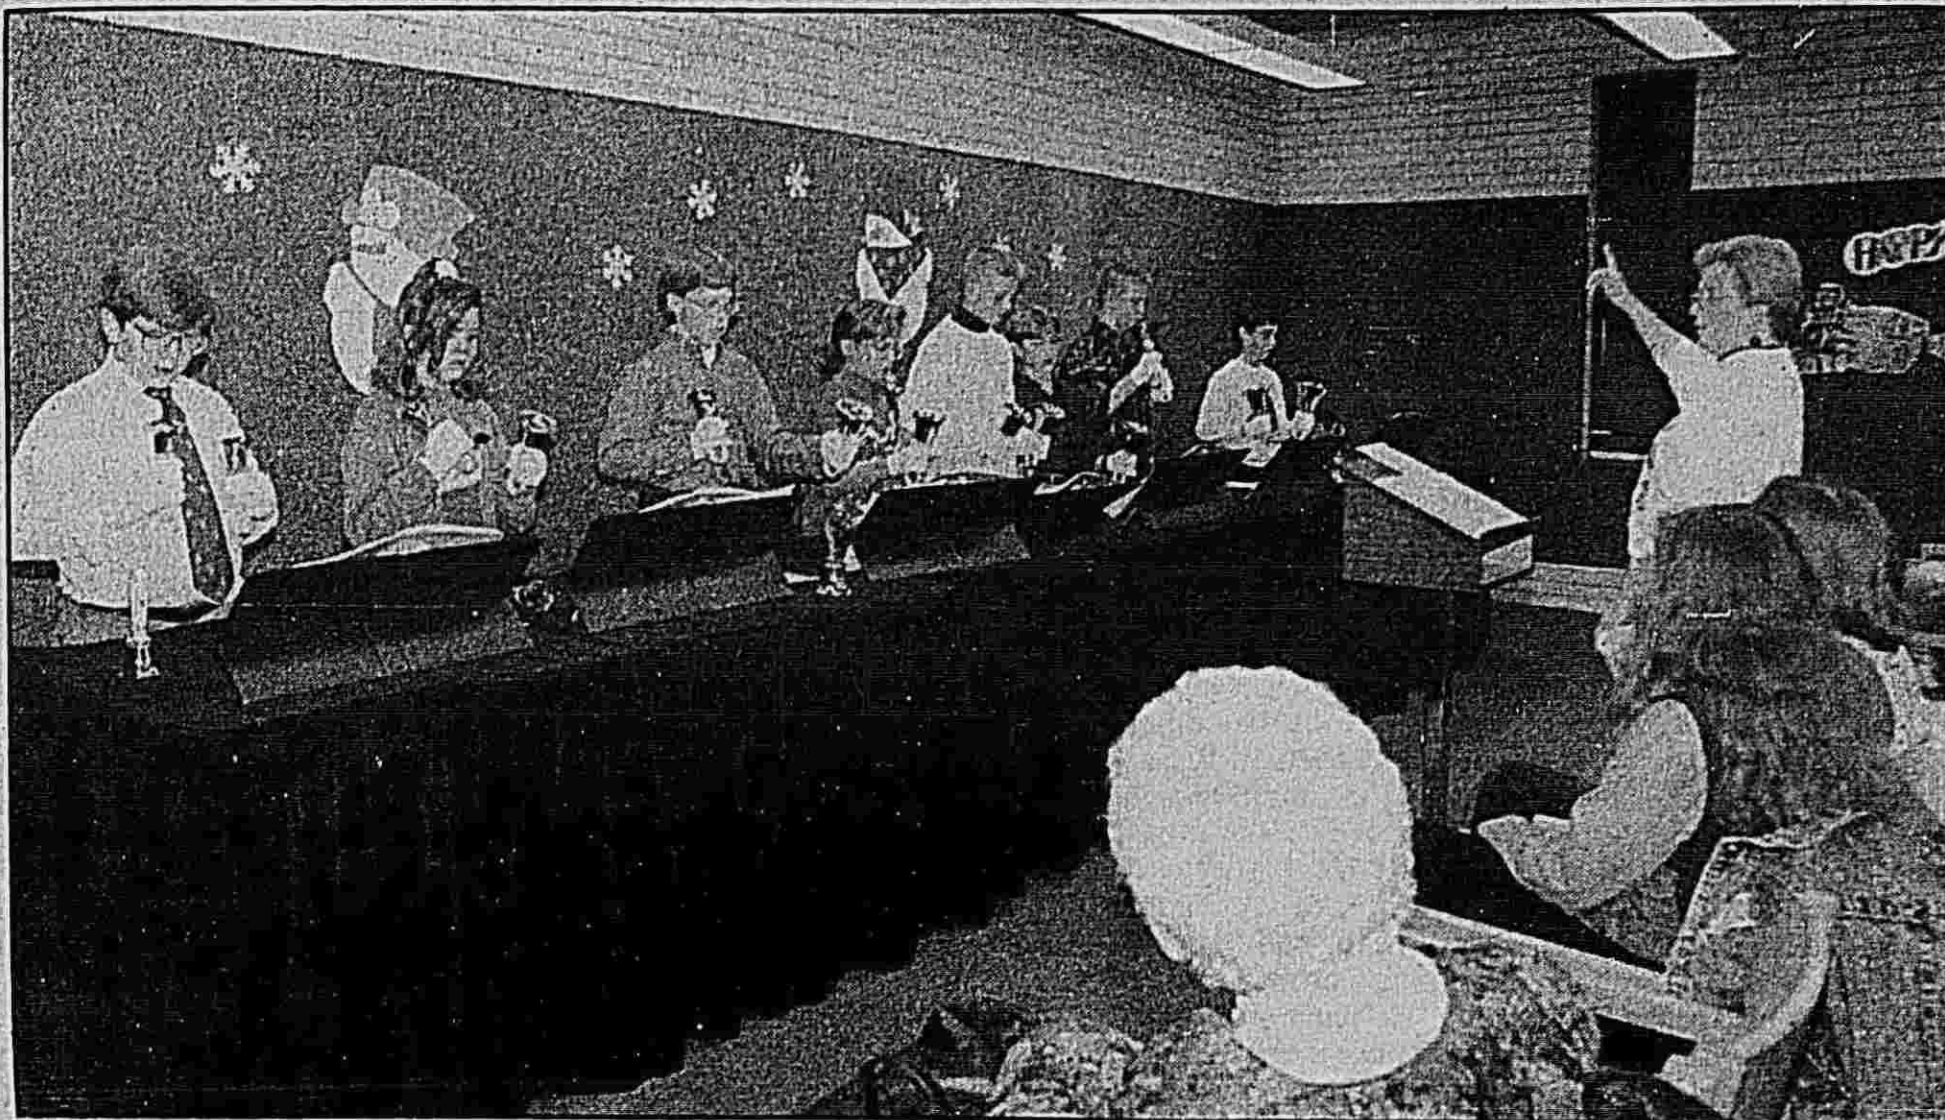

See the lights

Some say it is the warmer December weather. Others claim it is the lack of snow. But, for whatever reason, residents of Antioch Village and Township have really dressed up the town this holiday season.

The downtown area rival's Michigan Avenue for its twinkly brilliance. Judge for yourself and check out how creative your neighbors have become. An evening drive-around the Antioch area is a definite must do this season.

Food drive

A reminder to Antioch residents that Oakwood Knolls will be holding its second annual food drive this Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Non perishable food and paper products may be dropped off at the Oakwood Knolls Beach/Park, located in the subdivision off of North Avenue. Everyone is invited to contribute and there is a rumor that Santa will stop by between 1:15 and 1:30 p.m. For more information call Mike at 395-0754.

Handbell choir, a holiday delight

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

Assistant Librarian at the Fox Lake District Library, Cynthia Lobaza set up tables with hot cider and Christmas cookies before people gathered to hear the haunting and beautiful sounds of the Millburn Congregational Church's Handbell Ensemble.

Between 40 and 60 people came to the library on Grand Ave. to enjoy the music they've heard there each season for the last three or four years. "Everyone has requested them again," said Lobaza.

Kris Franks from Gurnee, director of the ensemble, said that the group began about five years ago, when the Millburn

Church was given a memorial donation by church members. Since that time, they have added to the collection of English bells, expanding to make various octaves.

The Adult and the Youth Handbell Ensembles, two of the three divisions, played at the library. Franks said that because the kids liked seeing the adults and older children play the instruments so much, they asked if they could play also, so a "Children's Handbell Ensemble" was formed.

Students in grades two through five, from Antioch Grade Schools, Lake Villa Grade Schools, and the Millburn Elementary School, make up the Children's Handbell Ensemble, said Franks.

The "Youth" group of musicians is made up by 6th, 7th, and 8th graders from Millburn, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst and Antioch area schools; and some of the students from the Antioch High School make up the team with adults to form the "Adult" group.

Anywhere from eight to 10 people make up the three handbell groups, said Franks. Even though the music played is very unique and lovely, the bells are quite easy to play, noted the director. In fact, one of the boys in the children's group is nearly blind, said Franks, "and he plays just beautiful," the director said.

Residents make issue of coloring ad

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Several Antioch Township residents attended the last board meeting to complain about the coloring contest advertisements. The ads ran in the Advertiser, a weekly shopping guide. Apparently, the coloring contest copy included the following: Sponsored by 'This has never been questioned in 10 years. If that is what you feel, then my name shouldn't be out in front here.'

—Jim Fields

Antioch Township, Jim Fields, Supervisor.

A few residents objected to the payment of the advertising bill out of township funds. Because the ad contained only Fields' name and not the name of the other trustees, some felt it should be paid out of Fields' own pocket or campaign funds.

To complicate things further, the interested residents believed that the advertising bill had not yet been approved. However, when the minutes of the prior meeting were read, the payment of this bill was included.

Fields, however, was willing to discuss the matter publicly.

"This has never been questioned in 10 years," Supervisor Jim Fields responded. "If that is what you feel, then my name shouldn't be out in front here."

Fields then went through a list of places his name appears as well as Antioch Township, which included envelopes and letterhead paper.

"I disagree. It is not the same," said Roy Sackschewsky. "That is official business. There is no comparison with putting it in the paper."

According to another resident, there is nothing wrong with including the name. She told the board that she consulted with state officials and was told it is not improper.

Antioch Township considers benefit package for retirees

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Township board will consider health benefit packages for retirees. A proposal offered at the last township meeting was not approved and Trustee Tim Osmond will be investigating plan alternatives.

The first proposal set a 50 percent co-pay by the township if an employee or elected official retired at age 55 after 12 years of service. After 15 years of service, it was proposed the township pay 75 percent. And, after 20 years of service the township would pay 100 percent. This coverage proposed to also pay for the employees' spousal share of health insurance costs.

However, the board had many questions concerning this plan, particularly the cost of such a plan.

"I'd like to know, before we vote on this, what is it going to cost?" asked Trustee Claudette Skvarce.

Other issues the board was concerned with included an ending age, coordination with Medicare, accounting issues, and spousal coverage. Osmond promised to investigate further and report back to the board next month.

Some alternatives to the plan were suggested including allowing retirees to stay on the township policy but paying 100 percent of the costs. A more in-depth survey of other township policies will be done. Some of the townships which have this type of policy include Lake Zurich, Wauconda, Warren, and Cuba.

Marie Brausam takes a journey over the hill

We did it

Did you ever have such a good story to tell that you did not know where to begin? I'll start by saying we did it, we pulled it off, we socked it to her, we got her good! Ray Brausam, Darlene and Tricia Olenick, Linda Boerman and I engineered a totally "surprising"/"surprise" 40th birthday party for Marie Brausam.

We took her completely off guard and she was actually left "speechless." For those of you who know Marie (the mouth) Brausam, this was a miracle in itself. About 65 friends and relatives gathered to honor and roast her in style on Friday, Dec. 3. The gala affair was held in the First and Ten Room at the Antioch Bowl Complex. All guests were hiding behind Marie Brausam look-alike masks when she arrived. She was definitely surprised and the fact that she almost jumped backward through the wall was proof of her genuine shock. After everyone enjoyed a tasty meal, the Director of the Antioch Park and Recreation Department, Carol Todd, served as emcee and commentator for the Marie Brausam Christmas Fashion Show Review. The models participating in the special roasting skit were Linda Boerman, Chris Alex, Lori Teaters, Natalie Newcomb, Dawn Hanich, Tricia Olenick and Darlene Olenick. Eventually Marie was crowned "Mrs. Senility" and took her aged "over-the-hill" walk as everyone sang a special melody to the tune of Miss America.

The evening was filled with wonderful conversation, spontaneous laughter and contentment as everyone, reveled in the fact that we "got her good!" Happy 40th, Marie, know that you are loved and cherished by many and please let us know "does life really begin at forty?" We ask nothing in return, except a postcard from Hawaii.

Bigger Doorways

My poor husband's work never ends. Now he has a new project ahead of him. He must soon figure out the ways and means to enlarge the doorways of our home in order that I can enter and exit freely with my now bigger than ever head. After receiving a special section in Russ Fairchild's annual Holiday Stroll and reading his kind words regarding yours truly, my head has gotten quite a bit bigger.

As usual, Russ, I am enjoying reading the Stroll and each year I recognize more and more of the people mentioned in your column. I guess this truly means I am an official Antiochian with my Chicago ways gone and lost forever. Keep it coming and have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy

New Year. You are truly one of the special people that makes Antioch such a warm, caring community. St. Nicholas Little Yasmine Bessette's mother, Debbie, came to Camp Crayon one morning to tell the children all about the Dutch custom of St. Nicholas (Santa Claus) in Holland. In Holland St. Nicholas comes ashore by boat on Dec. 5, the eve of his birthday. He then mounts his special white horse, instead of a reindeer, and rides from house to house via the roof tops. The children put out their "shoes" before going to bed and St. Nicholas enters while they are sleeping to fill their shoes with special treats.

Hometown Goodies

LIZ SCHMEHL
395-5380

He has a helper called black Pete and a special book filled with the names of all the good boys and girls of the village. Debbie also brought a pair of authentic, wooden, Dutch shoes for the children to see and try on and pictures of the boat, black Pete, the white horse and St. Nicholas with his book and walking staff. As she was telling the little ones she had asked St. Nicholas to try to make an early stop at Camp Crayon to fill their shoes, the children heard his white horse enter the roof by the fireplace and then descend on the other side of the building. Two children then entered the room where the shoes were lined up to check and see if he had left any treats. Sure enough, St. Nicholas had left a special treat in each pair of shoes and the children were all magically surprised to make this pleasant discovery.

Camp Crayon would like to thank Debbie Bessette for sharing this magical Christmas legend with the children.

There are two

Recently little Matthew Marcuccilli arrived at Camp Crayon sporting a new pair of terrific looking cowboy boots. He excitedly came up to me to show them off. The tops of the boots were hidden from view by his jeans and the lower half were reddish in color and textured looking. I asked him to roll up his pant leg so I could see the rest of the boot. The top half was black with white stars. I oooed and aaahed over the boot and soon he pulled up the other pant leg to show off the second boot.

When Cathy Werchek came in to drop off little John, I heard Miss Marie ask Matthew to show Mrs. Werchek his boots.

He stuck his foot in her direction and quickly rolled up one pant leg to show off the boot top. He then said "I have another one." Miss Marie thought he meant another pair of boots at home. Instead he put up his second pant leg and said "see, this one is the same." Once again, out of the mouths of babes.

The following Grass Lake School Junior High Students achieved the high honor roll recognition for the first quarter grading period—Abby Clark, Amber Gore, Kristin Miodonski, Josh White, Denise Lorenz and Sarah Ritter. Honor roll was achieved by the following Grass Lake School students—eighth grade: Jennifer Cardis, Tia Chinn, Ryan Dunfrund, Tami Edelman, Candice Kasprzak, Jenny Konstans, Brigitte Leonard, Kyle Milovanovic, Teri Mozal, Eric Ritter, Kevin Hennessey-Vollers.

Seventh grade: Ken Adelizzi, Brandy Brown, Jessica Cardis, Sarah Gray, Rick Lara, Tammy Plucker, Nicole Schaller, Christian Vogel; Sixth grade: Kristin Becmer, Jill Cardis, Carrie Dunfrund, Sara Groh, Jeff Johannsen, Jason Loneragan, Megan McHale. Congratulations on a job well done. Keep it up.

All grown up

Sometimes we forget what the world looks like through the eyes of a 3, 4 and 5 year old. Eight-year old Curtis Theel recently spent the day with us at Camp Crayon. From my vantage point (remember my children are 30, 28, 24 and 16 years old), he is "Little" Curtis Theel. However, little four-year old T.J. Wukitsch has his own version of things. He referred to Curtis as "that all grown up kid" when pointing him out to a Camp Crayon buddy. When Curtis stood next to T.J., eight years old suddenly looked "bigger" than I remembered it. Once again "out of the mouths of babes."

So what

Every once in awhile one of our little Camp Crayon Misses or Mr.'s will give us a run for our money in the area of maintaining law and order in the room. On these truly rare occasions we may have to resort to the ultimate—"possibly no treat given during treat time." On this particular day we changed our treat time and the project followed the treat, rather than vice versa. Naturally this would be the day that a special little someone would challenge the system.

As this particular little person got more and more challenging to us, Miss Marie issued the ultimatum "Maybe you won't receive a treat today if you don't settle down a bit." As expected the little person was two steps ahead of Miss Marie and quickly replied "We already had our treat!" Definite proof that even at 3, 4 and 5 years old, children have a unique ability to figure things out very quickly. Once again out of the mouths of babes and just one more reason why working with 75 little people is not only rewarding but also unpredictable.

Martini enters Lake County Board battle

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Judy Martini has just announced that she will be a Republican candidate for Lake County Board in District 1, Antioch. Martini is challenging incumbent Jim Fields.

Martini, age 41, has lived in the Antioch area for the past 17 years. She graduated from Richmond-Burton High School and studied environmental horticulture at the College of Lake County.

A licensed personal assistant and Realtor at RE/MAX Advantage in Antioch, she is also a member of St. Peters Church. Martini lives with her son, Jesse.

Martini is a director on the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency. She is an appointed member of the Special Area Management Planning Commission (SAMP), which is a consortium of governmental units evaluating waterway related problems.

"Many people have chosen to live in this area because of our number one resource, the Chain," explains Martini. "It is time we start taking care of it."

One of the key issues in Martini's campaign is representation. She is particularly proud of her availability to her constituents.

"My record stands for itself," says Martini. "I've always been there to help people when they need me. I will treat the position of Lake County Board member as an honor. It is a privilege — a privilege I will welcome with open arms and an open ear."

Judy Martini

Martini is an advocate for the environment. She is a member of Citizens Against Unsafe Electricity (CAUSE), which opposes the construction of overhead powerlines in the Loon Lake area. In the same vein, Martini is offering a challenge to the other board contenders.

"I'd like to challenge the other candidates not to put up any signs," said Martini. She feels that the election signs do nothing for the aesthetics of the town and are often an eyesore.

Carolyn Jonites will be Martini's campaign manager. Both are hoping that it will be a fair and honest race.

"All I want is a clean race, that's all," said Martini. "I will be there in town to do the best job for the people."

Historical Society's Winter Warm-up VII a success

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Historical Society held its Winter Warm-up VII raffle to benefit the Lakes Region Historical Society. Prizes, donated by State Bank of Antioch, Four Squires, Hill-Behan Lumber, Ben Franklin, First Chicago, Pederson GMC, First National Bank of Antioch, American Family Insurance, Strang Funeral Home, Johnson Jewelers, and other private donations, were raffled off to lucky winners.

The Lakes Region Historical Society annual raffle Winter Warm-up is the only approach to members and the public for funds to cover the operating expenses for the museum. The museum does not charge any entry fee, and all of the workers are volunteers.

The big winner in the raffle was Wayne Sobczak, who won a 19-inch color television donated by the State Bank of the Lakes. Ted Axton won both a snapper gas leaf blower and a 1992 silver eagle dollar. Illinois Senator Adeline Geo-Karis won a handmade afghan, while the Antioch AARP chapter won a painted duck decoy. Other winners, too numerous to mention, won a $50 gift certificate at Jack's Four Squires, an oil painting, a framed print, a 1975-76 proof coin set, a $50 gift certificate at Weasels, a loon print, a $20 gift certificate at Johnson Jewelers, and a loon statuette casting.

The Museum's hours are from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays. Tickets can also be obtained by calling the answering machine at 395-7337 or 395-3916.

In time for the holidays, the museum is planning to trim eight Christmas trees for their holiday display. They are hoping that this year will be their finest showing of classic Christmas memories.

Welcome Wagon adds second representative

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Karen Kopp has completed her training as a Welcome Wagon representative and will soon be joining Brenda Gartzke in visiting new residents, new U.S. citizens, engaged women, and new parents in the Antioch area.

Kopp, a former resident of McHenry has lived in Lindenhurst for one year with her husband and one year-old daughter. She has a bachelors of science degree in advertising and marketing from University of Illinois.

The Welcome Wagon organization was founded in Memphis, Tennessee and derives its name from the Conestoga wagons of frontier days.

As the westward moving wagon trains neared frontier communities the townspeople sent out a wagon loaded with provisions.

The idea was to entice the travelers to settle in that community. This tradition was revived in 1928 with the formation of the Welcome Wagon organization.

After being notified of a new resident, parent, or citizen, the Welcome Wagon representative will come to the home with the famous Welcome Wagon basket.

In it are free gifts from local businesses and vital information including locations of hospitals, area doctors, dentists, and information from the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

To get in touch with your local representative call 356-6377 or 395-0210. Also, any area business that would like to be included in the "basket" can call those numbers for more information.

COURAGE plans antigang strategies for local communities

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Residents of the four communities, Grayslake, Antioch, Lake Villa, and Lindenhurst involved in the Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE), met for a strategic planning session at the Lake Villa Library. COURAGE members broke into the three groups: prevention, intervention, and education to make out their goals and objectives for the upcoming year.

Students and young people were invited to attend the meeting and approximately 10 showed up. Students from the Lake Villa Intermediate School, Antioch Community High School, and Grayslake High School indicated that they would be interested in actively working with the prevention section.

COURAGE is a non-profit organization which is dedicated to the education, prevention, and intervention of gang in Lake County. Area politicians, social service workers, educators, law enforcement officials, religious leaders, concerned parents and students are joined in an effort to make Lake County gang-free.

Township plans informational letter

An informational letter that will be sent to Antioch Township residents is in the works. A committee has been approved to develop a format and cost analysis of a regular township newsletter.

Trustees Claudette Skvarce and Judy Davis will work to develop an outline of the newsletter format as well as calculate the costs of such an endeavor. Once the preliminary work is done, all members of the township board will contribute to the newsletter.

The newsletter is expected to incorporate Lake County information as well as local information for township residents.

Antioch to advertise for park bids

Upon a request by Don Zeman, Chairman of the Park Commission, the Village of Antioch will be advertising for bids for a well for potable water and a park pavilion in the new Heron Harbor park. The park, yet unnamed, is located on Route 173 across from Jewel Foods. While Heron Harbor developers will be paying for the work, the village has agreed to advertise for the bids.

The size of the pavilion has not yet been determined but may be a large as 24-feet by 24-feet. The park, which has not yet been officially opened will contain soccer fields and a picnic pavilion. The new park will not have permanent restroom facilities, but instead will have temporary facilities.

The Village of Antioch has announced the appointees to the Economic Development Commission. Heading the commission will be Tom O'Malley with Sherry Smith as secretary.

The purpose of the commission is to promote and encourage economic growth in the Antioch area. The commission has been charged with the development of a plan to implement the proper economic development while coordinating with the Chamber of Commerce, Community Action Now Committee, the Tax Increment Finance District, the village administrator, planner, and other regional organizations.

Other appointees include Ted Axton, Roger Manderscheid, Carl McWherter, Don Rasmussen, Kathy Cirone, Pete Lezeau, the current Chamber of Commerce president, Pres Reckers, and Cheryl Tripp.

The board also named appointments of Al Little, Cheryl Esmond, Marilyn Shineflug, Charles Wertz, Joe Huber, Ed Kozirowski, Steve Smouse, Bud Newton, and Dick Olson to the Antioch Commission on the Environment.

Fairchild concludes another Christmas stroll through town

Ben Franklin Family Center
Don Marski-Owner

"Tis the Season to be Jolly"

This is still the store with the Christmas spirit. More so than last yuletide, if that's possible, as new ideas and projects materialize. Up front, right, as you enter is the new location for photography, films, developing, etc., sundries, tobacco and Janice Hamilton in charge. Greeting cards for every occasion, in every price range. I see dear friend Mary Anichini, former operator of the pantry here many years ago, making her selections.

Sweet Sue Glenn puts her vast knowledge to work over in arts and crafts. I also see her neighbor, jovial Jan Wilke, another stroller, doing likewise. Carl Leatherberry is here. There's fabulous toys and games that I like myself, and artificial trees, beautifully lit and decorated. Vera Mair and Martha Sturm are getting the spirit.

Our popular and efficient police chief, Chuck Miller chatting with Don Marski on his security rounds. Over in books and literature, I greet Frank Skrzynecki, otherwise known as Frank the roofer. Walking through frames and pictures is Marge Settee and Betty Sheehan, former employees. Jean Kosar, office head, calling Don on the intercom. Bob Obenauf, chief honcho, here one minute, gone the next. A valuable and efficient executive, now aiding Eva Ziel.

Justine Lubkeman browsing through the tapestries, rugs and afghans. Bing Crosby's recording of "I'll be Home for Christmas," playing on the radio.

And now, pertaining to Pearl Leatherberry. I'm a little confused and haven't had time to sort it out. Whether she retired or not. I know she was tops in seniority, yet, I thought I saw her on duty recently. Regardless, God bless you all, and keep an eye out for Pearl, who will certainly be missed.

Flash, Bob Obenauf just told me Pearl was home ill, but has recuperated and returned, and that I wasn't cracking up after all! (Whooley). . . and over the loud speaker with Bing again comes "The Bells of St. Mary's." Amen.

State Bank of Antioch

Randy Miles, president

This is still one of my favorite stops on the yearly Christmas stroll. A bank full of friends (I hope) even at this busy season of the year. I wave over to Vice President Wally Jaszowski in his plush office. He's earned his "day in the sun."

Also Roger Manderscheid, who kindly befriended me one morning with one of my accounts. "Thanks Roger." And Jean Rockow, my friend since I first entered the bank. She's in her office right now, helping a confused customer with tact and diplomacy. Carolyn Blanchette, an experienced trust officer who has aided me in the past. Florence Babusek, beauty and intelligence.

I notice there's been some changes in personnel, but that's par for the course everywhere, new faces, familiar faces, like Neila Hopkins, Betty Sutcliffe, Marcia King, capable Chris Martin, my dear friend, Denise Wells.

Jeanine Kasprovicz, Donna Warner, Norma Kane, Connie Anichini, who I see now and then, also I'm well pleased with teller, Beverly Turner, always pleasant and efficient.

Well, I've worked my way to the rear of the bank where it makes no difference to me, who is in charge of the information desk: Mrs. B or Barbara Christensen. (How's that for diplomacy?) Oops, I almost missed my good friend, Tom Cody. He's busy as usual, well thought of, Carl Wurster, I've missed for quite some time. I hope he's well and happy.

My good neighbor Suzette Winner is here. Now and then I get a wave from Hank Apostle. His lovely daughter Julie must be quite a young lady. Hear, tell I just missed our popular village administrator, Tim Wells.

Farewell to: Vi's Yellow Bird

Well folks, this is the end of the line, where we used to conclude all Christmas strolls, at Vi's Yellow Bird, on the outskirts of town, to Channel Lake; all these years. The Yellow Bird, as you've known in the last two strolls, was taken over by two lovely people, Mary and Chuck Schutt.

Vi and Al have retired, which means the end of an era. I, for one will miss them and the many happy times, we all shared. The memories will linger on. But if two people ever deserved a rest, it's them. They were professional people, and believe me, Vi rubbed elbows with the best of them. She also left her mark back in Chicago, many years ago.

She'll be missed by, just to name a few: Hot Nuts Ron and his polka originals, Ernie Stetz, Stephan, Uncle Jess and the Stardusters, Ed Broniecki and his Cordovox, Barbara Flannum and her carousels, Bill Stutz, visiting personalities of the stature of Eddie Korosa, from his baby doll tavern in Chicago, John Hyzny and Laurie from the personality Lounge on Archer Avenue.

I am not happy writing this, as we were very close friends. Vi and my late wife, Ginger growing up together. "Memories that Bless and Bum."

For Auld Lang Syne

Well folks, I hope you were all right along with me, on this: "A Sentimental Journey." I sincerely hope you'll all have pleasant and happy memories of Vi-a great trouper-and her Yellow Bird. Lord willing, we shall all pass this way again. Amen.

Needle dumper charged with reckless conduct

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

After conducting a police surveillance, Antioch Police Department finally got their man, or in this case, their woman. For the past several months, used needles have been found in the municipal parking lot on Toft Street in Antioch.

At 5 p.m. on Dec. 9, police observed a black Ford van pull into the parking lot. According to the report, police then saw people moving around the van for several minutes. Lilly Leahy, age 52, of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, exited the van and was seen dropping something onto the ground. When officers checked, they discovered two used syringes, alcohol swabs, and two foil packages thrown onto the wood chips on the median.

When questioned, Leahy explained that she and her husband were diabetics and that insulin injections were required prior to eating a meal.

She further told officers that whenever they dined in Antioch, which was two to three times a week, they injected themselves and disposed of the needles in the shrubbery because no garbage can was available.

According to police reports, Leahy admitting to dumping the needles on the ground two to three times a week for the past six months.

It apparently never occurred to her that children could have found her medical waste and have been injured.

Leahy was charged with reckless conduct. She was subsequently released on bond. Her husband, Edward Lilly, was not charged.

Police Beat

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law

ANTIOCH
Outside assist

On Dec. 9, Jeffrey Lilly, age 18, of Antioch was arrested on a parole violation. Lilly was taken into custody without incident.

Disorderly conduct

Thomas Anderson, age 26, of Zion, was arrested for disorderly conduct on Dec. 9 after a resident called the police. According to the report, Anderson frightened the complainant when he banged on her door. Anderson was found stumbling around the woman's yard in an intoxicated state. Anderson was released on bond.

DWLS

Davis Abberner, age 32, of Zion was stopped by police on Dec. 9 when it was observed that his plates had expired. It was discovered that Abberner drivers license had been suspended. He was charged with driving while license suspended and expired plates. Abberner was released on bond.

Criminal trespass

After responding to a complaint of threats, police found Alvaron Guerrero, age 30, of Antioch hiding in the grass in Burger King. According to the complainant, Guerrero had threatened the subject with "Wait until you get off work, I'll get you." Guerrero, the report continued, told officers that he was "laying down," however, police found a 30" oak club with a 12" chain attached on the front seat of Guerrero cars.

Guerrero was arrested for criminal trespass, disorderly conduct, and intimidation.

LINDENHURST Possession

Bradley Hauser, 28, 41680 Dot Place, Antioch, on Dec. 12, was arrested for possession of marijuana. The officer on patrol on Route 132 noticed Hauser's vehicle driving 48 mph in a 35 mph zone. The officer found a marijuana cigarette in open view and when he searched Hauser found 9.5 grams of a substance that field tested as marijuana. He was released on a 3,000 bond and is scheduled to appear in court on Jan. 11 in Waukegan.

CLARIFICATION

It was reported last week that Linda Henderson was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol. While that report was correct, we would like to make it clear that it was not the same Linda Henderson who teaches at W.C. Petty School in Antioch. Linda Henderson, the teacher, lives in Ingleside, while the other Henderson, charged with the crime, lives in Antioch.

Two Yule thoughts

Here's a couple gift suggestions sure to get you in the Christmas spirit.

Giving ought to be an enjoyable experience. Too often in the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season, giving becomes a chore and a bore, like picking out new playthings for kids who already are buried under mounds of toys they never use.

There are some forms of giving, though, that are guaranteed to give you a kick, make you feel good. One of them is giving food to your hometown community pantry so needy families will have a bountiful Christmas dinner. Another is a contribution to the College of Lake County Foundation, a not-for-profit corporation.

The Foundation provides CLC with financial resources that cannot be acquired through normal funding channels. The Foundation supports a broad range of worthwhile projects, the most notable being scholarships. Last year 174 students received Foundation scholarships, grants that open doors to higher education and send recipients winging toward fulfilling lives.

Foundation gifts are tax deductible and can be used as you direct. Donations in any amount can be made simply by addressing the CLC Foundation, College of Lake County, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake, Ill., 60030-9908. There's a sure-fire benefit that goes with every Foundation gift. A donation will make you feel good. Season's greetings.

Putting parents on line

Adopting tough parental responsibility laws key to combating teen drinking and substance abuse.

Illinois maintains an enviable position as a leader in the battle against drunk driving. One of the reasons is innovative parental responsibility legislation that is being adopted by more and more municipalities across the state.

In pushing for greater parental involvement, Dir. James E. Long of the Dept. of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse, avers that consistent laws and meaningful enforcement are key components of successful strategies for preventing underage drinking and the deadly consequences that so often accompany teen drinking.

Typically, ordinances provide that adults who allow teens to drink in their homes can be fined up to $1,000. There are tougher penalties for using fake ID's to buy alcohol. Local ordinances endorse the basic philosophy driving statewide prevention efforts—that is that parents influence their children's attitudes toward alcohol and that adults set an example for younger people.

Long and other state officials correctly maintain that substance abuse prevention begins at home. School, the community, health care professionals, business, religious and civic groups, law enforcement and the media all play important roles, but none carries the weight of parents in combating teen drinking and substance abuse.

Village officials should take stock. If they haven't yet adopted parental responsibility ordinances, passage would make a good New Year's resolution for 1994.

Yorkhouse Road fiasco

Editor:

Since the Army Corps rejected Midlane Development's application to fill wetlands adjacent to the Des Plaines River Wetlands Demonstration Project, I find it very difficult to believe that a permit will be issued by the Corps to the County of Lake for the extension of Yorkhouse Road. The fact that Yorkhouse Road is going through the demonstration project makes it more unacceptable.

If an Army Corps permit is issued to the County of Lake, this will set a precedent for other A.D.I.D. wetlands throughout Lake County. Private developers will take the attitude "if the county can do it, why can't we?" The alternative of Sunset Road is at best a very poor compromise for many of the same reasons except it will save the wildlife functions of the project.

This should be an issue of every state and federal official coming up for re-election, as well as county officials. If a stance is not taken by them, then they shouldn't be voted in. This extension will affect future state and federal conservation grants, if allowed.

Which sin the greater?

Editor:

The troubling aspect of the Coach Christiansen incident is the nationwide news media coverage it received.

That news media coverage brings home the fact that sensationalism sells and stories with real substance often times end up on the obit page or are ignored entirely. Remember just a few years ago, three homeless Hispanics died during the winter in an unheated garage in Libertyville Township. Three needless deaths that barely got notice in the obit column.

Another example of news media coverage, or the lack of it, involves the same high school board who will pass judgment on Christensen. It is certain the vast majority of all residents in High School Dist. 128 now knows of Christensen and his problems. It is equally certain 80 to 90 percent of those same residents of Dist. 128 are unaware the same school board dumped an avoidable $665,000 tax bill on them, resulting from the Leesley annexation by the village board.

If that school board action, as the deaths of the three homeless Hispanics, received the same media coverage as has Christensen, it is certain heads would have rolled.

Christensen's ill-fated action will have little, if any, lasting affect and will be forgotten. However, the $665,000 avoidable tax burden will have a never-ending, negative financial impact. The question must be asked: Who has committed the greater sin? An overzealous football coach or a respectable, but painfully timid and ultimately costly school board, or perhaps a third group—the Rip Van Winkle sleeping public, who seldom votes, always complains and is ultimately responsible for everything that happens in the public or quasi-public sector, good or bad.

Prefer apartment life

Editor:

Too much is too much!

When one person classified all Gurnee apartment residents as "riff raff—that did it for me. I do not consider myself or my neighbors "riff raff," and we live in an apartment complex. Three of my neighbors and myself have the equivalency of a doctors degree, and all have retired from 35 plus years as educators.

We chose to live in an apartment complex. It is insulting as well as very narrow minded for Gurnee's "newest residents" to refer to us as "riff raff." Did they ever rent an apartment?

For homeless, Christmas means bed, hot meal

by BILL SCHROEDER

How can it be? In a community where there is so much for many, there is so little for others.

During this season of celebration, people of good will are doing their best to close the gap. Food baskets are being delivered to families in need. Mittens and warm caps are being gathered. Carolers are bringing cheer to shut-ins and senior citizens unable to be with loved ones. Evidence of the Christmas spirit is abundant.

For the homeless, food and shelter will be provided by Lake County PADs (Public Action to Deliver Shelter) Christmas Eve and Christmas day on the regular schedule. No one will go without a clean bed and a hot meal, assured PADS Executive Dir. Jackie Smith.

Christmas Eve those without a place to go will be at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Waukegan. Christmas day there will be food and shelter at the Waukegan Park Dist. and United Methodist Church, Antioch. Both days will be backed up by Bridge House in Waukegan, Smith reported, because there always are greater needs on holidays.

Hard to believe how much a clean bed and a hot meal can mean. That's what Christmas will be for the homeless.

LOTS OF WORK TO DO---
Despite a shrinking jurisdiction due to growth and development, Wauconda Supervisor Jim Keagle sees a bright future for township government. "It's what you make of the job. There's plenty to do," remarked Keagle, who served as mayor four years before elected supervisor last April. Keagle and Wauconda Township trustees are investigating an innovative approach to building more senior citizen housing. Keagle sees the project as trail-blazing for other Lake County townships.

★★★★★

STAY AT HOME---Claudia Hoogasian interceded with a tug on the sleeve of her husband, Circuit Judge Jack Hoogasian when the Waukegan jurist began talking wistfully about the challenge of campaigning. "No more. I want him at home," Mrs. Hoogasian declared. Judge Hoogasian was talking about the expanding field for openings on the Dist. Appellate Court bench which could see four Lake Counties in the race next spring. Circuit Judge Charles "Charlie" Scott and Associate Judge Barbara Gilleran-Johnson already are committed to running.

FOR THE RECORD---A call from Jack Callanan afforded this department an opportunity to reminisce about old friends and recall the pace of small town law enforcement before the mega malls and interstate highways.

Now the owner of a Round Lake manufacturing concern and a resident of Wildwood, Callanan became Grayslake's first full-time night police officer in August, 1961, when village officials decided to expand on the part-time force headed by the late Police Chief Scotty Lees. With a chuckle, Callanan said he brought "experience" to the job gained from duty on the Lake Bluff Police Dept. where dealing with barking dog complaints took up a lot of police time in those days.

As a young cop, Callanan said one of his duties every shift was to make sure all the Lake Bluff street lights were working. "Really," Jack laughed.

QUESTIONS ARGUMENT---Jim Beemsterboer, who has sold a lot of Lake County property during his real estate sales career, finds it hard to swallow the argument that voting more taxes for things like new schools and swimming pools "will enhance property values." We've all heard that line during referenda campaigns.

"Selling a house with high taxes is not only very difficult, but invariably leads to discounting the selling price for the simple reason it must be competitive in the market place," observes the retired Grayslake resident. "It is very difficult to understand why we would do this to our homes."

So Jim provides another viewpoint to the question.

PROTECTING WETLANDS---

Andy Bitta Sr., a resident of Hawthorn Woods, is organizing a network of ecology and environmental study clubs for high school students designed to give young people a hands-on opportunity to apply their knowledge and interest in the real world. Initial interest has been displayed by students at Stevenson, Libertyville and Maine Township schools where Bitta is employed as a dean.

Bitta, a village trustee of Hawthorn Woods, envisions young people being a force in the effort to protect endangered wetlands like those exposed to the future construction of Rte. 53. Bitta is a long-time foe of the expressway now planned as a tollway.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY---All the decorations are up and there's an extra stocking on the mantle this year, so pop and the lady of the house are all set for Santa Claus and several hectic weeks. We hope your family has a joyous holiday season. Merry Christmas.

Assessor offers advice for buyers and builders

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Theorists who think township government ought to be eliminated will do well to steer clear of Assessor Betty Niemi of Grant Township. Because of skyrocketing assessments and a hefty multiplier imposed by the state, Niemi has been working well into the night nearly every day for almost a month answering questions from irate property owners.

A weary Niemi is wondering if taxpayers would get the same kind of personal attention dealing with a bureaucrat in the County Building. "I'm doing my best to give everyone an answer. Personal service is township government," Niemi avows, although she admits she's running out of reasons. "I wish voters would ask the taxing bodies where money is being spent."

Niemi had this bit of advice: Before citizens buy or build a home, they ought to check with the assessor to find out about taxes. Good idea. Typically, buyers and builders plan for everything but taxes. When they find out, it's often a rude awakening—and too late.

New chairman?—Grant Township Republican precinct committee persons are making no secret of their unhappiness with township GOP Chairperson Donna-Mae (The Lip) Litwiler whose flood of tears interrupted a recent meeting on primary endorsements. Litwiler complained, "I'm being picked on." Party Lines was told that the precinct captains were fed up with Litwiler's attempts to steer Grant into the Gary Skoien for Congress camp when the Grant majority preferred incumbent Congressman Phil Crane.

Just for fun—Members of the League of Women Voters of Libertyville-Mundelein want it known that life isn't one dreary public issue after another. They've scheduled a "strictly social" wine and cheese party at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 5, at Cook Library. No speeches, not even by primary candidates being invited to attend.

Likes being left alone—The Lake County Board's new single member district system was invoked by Rep. Dick Raftis (R-Wildwood) when he was contacted by opponents of the controversial Yorkhouse Rd. extension plan being pushed by the county. "Why are you contacting me?" Raftis reportedly asked. "That's not my district." For the record, Yorkhouse Rd. is north of Raftis' central lake County district.

Spsst! A candidate—Filing for county treasurer as a Democrat is Arlene Demb of Highland Park. This might be the last time anyone hears about Arlene until next November. The incumbent Republican, popular Jack "Red" Anderson, won't be opposed in the primary so he can concentrate on keeping tabs on county funds until next summer.

Organized—Her secret for success was revealed by State Rep. Verna L. Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove) in the

Raftis

Niemi

Skoien

announcement of her candidacy for reelection. If Clayton is not the best organized candidate, she certainly is the first to get her team fully in place.

Clayton's co-chairs will be State Sen. Bill Peterson of Long Grove and Kathy Rubenstein of Buffalo Grove. Party Lines will get to the roster of Citizens for Clayton later. It's a long one. Clayton has been effective on transportation issues and senior citizens questions in her first term. Her 51st Dist. covers portions of Arlington Heights, Barrington, Buffalo Grove, Deer Park, Hawthorn Woods, Hoffman Estates, Inverness, Kildeer, Lake Zurich, Long Grove, North Barrington, Vernon Hills and unincorporated Palatine Township.

Wrapping it up—The early betting line has Mary Beattie an odds on favorite for election as state representative from the 59th Dist., a heavily Republican North Shore area. Beattie has the full endorsements of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, and GOP organizations in Shields, Deerfield, West Deerfield, Vernon and Libertyville townships. Restrained Republicans in the Waukegan Township section of the district found Beattie "qualified." The district now is represented by Virginia

Fiester Frederick of Lake Forest who is retiring.

Launch a career—Here's an interesting offer for anyone interested in getting into public affairs. The Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. is seeking persons interested in three director openings. Simply call the district's Grayslake office at 223-1056 between now and Jan. 22. If eligible, self nominees will be on a February ballot.

Entrenched—State Rep. Lauren Beth Gash (D-Highland Park) finds an age-old political event, the town meeting, to her liking. After successfully facing voters at Deerfield and Buffalo Grove sessions last month look for more of the same in the future in the 60th Dist. Gash says public input gives her good ideas for new bills. Out of the two meetings came ideas for more help for business, stiffer penalties for minor offenders and better enforcement of delinquent child support payment laws. Careful Lauren, this stuff sounds awfully conservative in a liberal district. Republicans in the 60th, by the way, are bracing for a joust between Edna Schade and Deloris Axelrod. They don't like each other so the primary should be interesting.

Dirty school

All I want to say is that District 116 is buying a new computer system for $147,000. Okay, over five years, but what about the lack of custodian? The buildings look terrible.

Walking around change

When our school district cries poor, how can they justify giving board members $300 of walking around money to go to Chicago for a convention that is paid for. This could amount to as much as $2,001. Change to a practice of reimbursing expenses with receipt.

Why vote

I just read about the proposed tax increase for the schools out here. It is going to be hitting the new subdivisions. The only costs for the schools that should never be voted on are costs for supplies for the kids. If it goes to textbooks or equipment, they should just be given the money. There should not be a vote about whether or not that students should have a roof that does not leak or textbooks to read.

Legalize it

Smoking marijuana is fun so stop trying to brainwash people. It is not physically addicting and is natural. It is better for you than alcohol. So, legalize it.

Check alternatives

We agree with the person who wrote that we do not need Route 53. Highways are forever. It takes up room and cuts down on our wildlife. We should think of something else than another road, just because you have a traffic jam today.

No gourmet meals

I don't feel that anyone serving time in a jail is entitled to gourmet meals. Perhaps if the food is enough of a punishment, they will keep themselves out of trouble.

Let's get together

I am responding to "Double dilemma" who has identical twins that are abusing each other. I also have twins who are nearly two-years old. I don't have an answer for her. I wish I did. But, maybe we can all help each other.

Crosses are a sham

The crosses in Wauconda are a sham. Purportedly, they are a protest against the enforcement of the First Amendment. These people must want a tyrannical theocracy like Iran.

Don't eat it

I hate to break this to you, but those people in Lake County Jail deserve road kill. Especially when they are there for murder, manslaughter, rape, etc. If they don't like it they don't have to eat it. There are plenty of homeless people out there who would love an egg a week, or Spam for dinner. Prison is just that, not some kind of country club.

What is torture?

You say you love animals and don't think they should be tortured, but you say it is okay for them to be slaughtered, have their skins ripped off, and used for medical research. If that is not torture, what is?

Thinks they're BEST

I believe this BEST organization is doing what more citizens should be paying attention to. Your kids and their kids will be paying more to educate their children if we do not pay attention now to what is happening at the school. BEST is serving us and the next generation as a watchdog.

Rude strongman

I have a major gripe. I am a weightlifter, and have been all my life. I just moved into Wauconda, a very nice community, and joined the park district. I exercise there with no problems except there is one guy who spits, swears, and throws weights around. In other facilities, if someone behaved like that they were thrown out. If he is not reprimanded, I will not work out there anymore. Clean up your act, or the center will lose people.

Thanks

I would love to call the person who wrote "Turn it off." Please print the telephone number. My handle is Sniper. Thank you for suggesting ham. I will go for my ham test soon.

Editorial note: Dear reader, call (708) 223-8161 ext. 130. Hope this helps.

Everyone deserves respect

Citizens radio is not about who has been on the radio longer. It is about making new friends and maybe being introduced to the world of radio. The point is that everyone should give respect to everyone and if you do not like something, there is always the off button.

Stop name calling

I think that while the idea of Lipservice is great, I do not know why people must call in using words like hypocritical Christian, whacko animal activist, crazy Buddhist, and radical pro-lifers. When you name call, generalize, and stereotype it really takes away for the validity of your statement.

Raise the rent

Have your mother raise the rent $25 and tell the renters there is a $25 bonus if rent is paid on time. Or, even a $5 a day charge for everyday it is late. Hope things work out for "Late payers."

The vocational headquarters for 18 high schools in Lake and McHenry counties has established the Director's Council for Student Success. Some 21 students are in the council, representing schools from Richmond to Stevenson.

"It helps us to determine how to reach more students. In the past, the way students found out about us was through someone else at school or a friend," Linda Hilten, the new superintendent, said.

The 15-year old LCAVC, located in Grayslake adjacent to the College of Lake County, is undergoing a transition as Hilten started as director in July. Hilten has started a portfolio program for each student. "It will be more than just the transcripts. It will include all of their accomplishments," she said.

The vocational center has some 1,000 students with plenty of room for expansion. Its largest enrollment was 1,500 students.

"We are in the process of reintroducing vocational education to the student community and parents. There is a significant increase in the number of jobs which will require technical training," Hilten said.

The center's building trades programs house, in the Grayslake subdivision of English Meadows, is on schedule. The center won a building fairness grant from the State Board of Education. It is 2,600-square feet and more than 200 students have worked on the project since September, 1992.

Hilten comes to LCAVC after spending 15 years as director at Will County's vocational center. She earned her masters of education at the University of Illinois and is working on a doctorate.

Joining Hilten on the administrative team are Jerry Bishop, administrative assistant for training and development; Barbara D. Oilschlager, assistant director for system services and Nat Greenfield, assistant director for student services.

Hilten said LCAVC has programs, from agriculture to industrial and health fields. State legislation allows high school students to take vocational classes which will help satisfy college requirements.

One of Hilten's top goals is for business and industry to look at the vocational center as a partner.

"The curriculum was developed with the assistance of advisory boards and that was the right track. Now we have to refine it," she said.

Hilten said the faculty is a very dedicated one, many on staff since the vocational center opened.

Hilten is the third director. Merv Pilotte was the first, followed by Dick Glogovsky. Glogovsky retired after last school year.

Cookie Place Card Stand-Ups

What a fun addition to your dining-table! For place card stand-ups, prepare dough for the cut-out cookie recipe. Cut rolled dough with cookie cutters of desired shapes, making sure shape has a straight lower edge. (You will need 2 cookies of the same shape for each place card.) With drinking straw, punch hole in top of each cookie. Bake as directed in recipe. Using decorator icing, pipe name and decorate half of cooled cookies. With 1/8 inch wide, ribbon, loosely tie decorated cookie to plain cookie of same shape, decorated side out. Repeat with remaining cookies. Stand decorated cookie place card by each place setting.

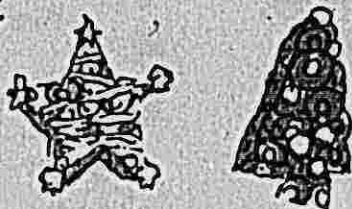

Fast and Festive Cookie Mix

- 6 cups all purpose flour
- 3 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 cups (1 lb.) margarine or butter

Lighting spoon flour into measuring cup; level off. In 4-quart bowl or container, combine 1/2 each of the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. With fork or pastry blender, cut 1/2 of the margarine into mixture until consistency of coarse crumbs. Repeat with remaining ingredients. Transfer to tightly covered container. Store in refrigerator or freezer. Use within four weeks. Measure by dipping cup into mix; level off. Return unused mix to refrigerator or freezer. Allow measured mix to come to room temperature before adding additional ingredients as directed in recipe.

13 cups.

Salted Peanut Rolls

Three nummy flavors in one easy recipe!

- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 1 (7 oz.) jar marshmallow creme
- 21 oz. (1 1/2 pkg.) caramels
- 3 tablespoons water
- 3 cups salted peanuts, chopped

Line cookie sheet with waxed paper. In medium bowl, combine 1/2 cup of the powdered sugar with marshmallow creme; blend thoroughly. Knead in remaining powdered sugar. Divide mixture into four parts. Form each part into rope 1/2 inch in diameter. Cut into pieces 1 1/2 inches long. Place on waxed paper-lined cookie sheet. Freeze about 20 minutes or until firm.

Meanwhile, in medium saucepan over low heat, heat caramels and water until caramels are melted, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Dip frozen marshmallow pieces into caramel mixture; roll in peanuts. Place on waxed paper-lined cookie sheet. Freeze until set. Store in covered container in refrigerator.

5 1/2 dozen candies.

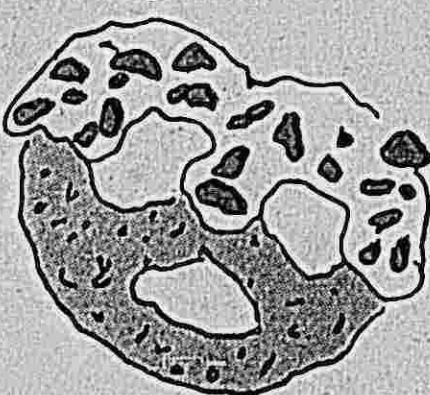

TIP: If caramel mixture becomes too stiff, reheat. If marshmallow pieces soften while dipping, refreeze until firm.

Candy Coated Pretzels

That favorite sweet and salty combination to decorate as you like.

- 8 oz. almond bark or vanilla-flavored candy coating
- 1/4 teaspoon peppermint or mint extract, if desired
- 2 to 3 drops red or green food coloring, if desired
- 4 oz. twist pretzels
- 1/2 cup crushed candy

In medium saucepan over low heat, melt almond bark, stirring constantly. Add peppermint extract and food coloring, blending gently. Keep mixture warm. Dip pretzels into coating; allow excess to drip off. Place on waxed paper. Sprinkle tops of pretzels with crushed candy.

16 to 24 candies.

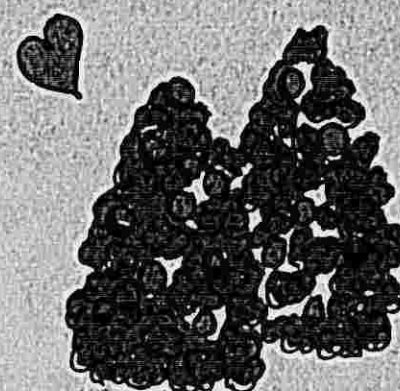

Festive Popcorn Treats

This Christmas version of popcorn balls the kids will love. The peanut butter adds a great flavor twist.

- 6 cups popped popcorn
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup peanut butter
- Green food color
- 1/4 cup red cinnamon candies

1. Line baking sheet with waxed paper. Pour popcorn into large bowl.
2. Combine sugar and corn syrup in medium saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly; boil one minute. Remove from heat.
3. Add peanut butter and green food color; stir until peanut butter is completely melted. Pour over popcorn; stir to coat well.
4. Lightly butter hands and shape popcorn mixture into trees as illustrated. While trees are still warm, press red cinnamon candies into trees. Place on prepared baking sheet; let stand until firm, about 30 minutes.

Makes 6 serving.

Battle of romance continues in 'Taming of the Shrew'

The war between the sexes has captivated playwrights for time immemorial.

In "The Taming of the Shrew," presented by Shakespeare Repertory at Chicago's Ruth Page Theatre, the theme is played to the hilt.

The Bard's complicated plot, replete with mixed-up identities and a play within a play, pits two headstrong characters in fast-moving comic battle of romance. Kristine Thatcher and Scott Wentworth turn in exemplary performances as the contentious Katherine and the determined Petruchio. Katherine "the curs'd" must wed before her younger sister Bianca (Nancy Voigts) can pay serious attention to her many suitors, including two—Lucentio (Timothy Gregory) and Hortensio (Larry Yando)—have disguised themselves as tutors in order to secretly woo their beloved.

Director Barbara Gaines has assembled a stunning cast, including such Shakespeare veterans as Peter Siragusa, Ross

Scott Wentworth and Kristine Thatcher in "The Taming of the Shrew."

Lehman, Frederic Stone "Measure for Measure" and Greg Vinkle. opens Feb. 18. Ticket information is available at

Performances of "The Taming of the Shrew" are scheduled through Jan. 2. (312)642-2273.—by TOM WITOM

NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Ever dreamed of walking under a cascading waterfall on a remote tropical island? How about sailing a raft into a mysterious sea cave? Or maybe you see yourself, and that special someone, on a secluded black sand beach surrounded by towering cliffs protecting from the outside world.

The place of your dreams is Kauai's uninhabited Na Pali Coast, a three day hike from civilization.

In a moment I'll tell you how to visit Kauai's hidden coast without the long trek!

For those unfamiliar with the Island of Kauai, it's the northern most, of the five major islands making up the Hawaiian chain. It is also the most beautiful, having earned the nicknamed the "Garden Isle".

Remember "Fantasy Island"? How about "South Pacific" or "Blue Hawaii"? You must have seen "Jurassic Park". All where filmed on Kauai, with the most spectacular scenes being that of the lush cliff-lined Na Pali Coast.

So do we get to this beautiful, but isolated area? Captain Zodiac Raft Expeditions has the answer!

For almost 20 years Clancy Greff III has been operating 23 foot Zodiac Boats which will take you under waterfalls cascading thousands of feet down the Na Pali cliffs, as well as into hidden sea caves and lava tubes.

You'll also land on a secluded beach where you can swim and snorkel or even hike back to the remnants of an ancient Hawaiian fishing village.

Want a hidden beach all to yourself? Captain Zodiac will take you there in the morning and pick you up in the afternoon. Feel really adventurous? Bring your sleeping bag and some food and ask the Captain to pick you up the next day. Fresh water is available right from that waterfall behind you!

Be it a three hour sunrise tour or a week long camping adventure, a Captain Zodiac Raft Expedition will likely be the highlight of your Hawaiian vacation.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 10) It is a full week of social activity for you and you may not get around to dealing with a work project you had in mind. Collaborate efforts are favored later in the week. Happy teamwork with a partner makes your week a special one. The theme is togetherness.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Business leads you hear of this week aren't likely to amount to much. Travel and leisure interests bring much happiness now. There is a special accent on partnership interests later in the week. Enjoy yourself with leisure activities this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You could spend a bit too freely when shopping for the children this week. It may not be the right time to entertain out-of-town guests. Accent family life later in the week. Improved powers of concentration bring you success with a mental or creative project.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Bookkeeping this week uncovers an error. A newfound pleasure interest commands your attention later in the week. Couples may not agree on a shopping matter. Don't go overboard in home entertaining this weekend. It should be a time when you have fun.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Be sure to share your innermost feelings with a loved one. Financial prospects will improve this week. It would be better to shop alone than with a companion. A partner has a wonderful suggestion. A major home project gets underway.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You'll want to follow up on a valuable business lead now. Job pursuits lead to financial gains. Pleasure interests may cost more than you've anticipated. You will be enthusiastic about the progress you make with work brought home from the office.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) New moneymaking ideas come this week. It is another stellar week for you where social interests are concerned. While you will have fun now, it would be best to sidestep a clandestine involvement. Talks with children are favored.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Some major house cleaning or rearranging of furniture will be going on this week. It would be better to opt for time for yourself than to have company over. You'll clear up a backlog of paperwork now. Put new plans into motion later in the week.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're liable to hear big talk in connection with business this week. Take it with a grain of salt. It is a great week for traveling and happy social visits with friends. A nice invitation comes from a friend. The weekend is socially rewarding.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You're on the right track where business interests are concerned this week. You'll meet with a moneymaking opportunity now. Guard against an excess use of credit. You'll be devoting more time to a group activity in the coming months. You're clear on objectives.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You'll shine now at a group activity. It is the perfect week for local travel and sightseeing. A meeting with an adviser yields valuable insights. The week brings a renewed incentive to get ahead in life. Expect good news.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Save some time now for record keeping. Extra money or credit becomes available to you now. Problem-solving techniques are excellent now. You'll find answers this week to questions which have been bothering you. Travel is a plus this weekend.

First New Year's bash at Capo's Cove

Before you make any New Year's Eve plans, consider starting a new tradition at Capo's Cove. Join your hosts, the Capo family, in celebrating the restaurant's first New Year's Eve bash. The unlimited buffet including prime rib, smoked salmon, crab legs, veal, chicken pasta, and other tasty treats will be open from 7:30 to 9 p.m. For only $99.95 per couple, there will be music and dancing, open bar, and champagne toasts.

The unlimited buffet will be complimented by an open bar from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Don't miss the champagne toasts, the dancing and the four hours of open bar! And, for those who prefer to just dance, toast champagne, and ring in the year with party favors, a package is available for $74.95 per couple. There will be a free shuttle for guests (within a five mile radius).

Capo's Cove is also an excellent place to hold that special meeting or party. Catering is available for up to 500 people.

Dining at the Cove is a treat any time of the year. Their tempting selections range from their famous stuffed pizza to Steak Con Gamberi, which is filet mignon served with six jumbo shrimp. Capo's menu is immense and includes over 25 pasta dishes, 14 chicken selections, 13 steak entrees, 10 veal, and 12 fish. And, that is before you begin to look at the varieties of pizza!

The lunch menu offers an extensive array of sandwiches, omelets, and appetizers. Lunch is available from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A word about the pizza: delicious! Capo's offers stuffed, pan, and even thin crust pizza. Create your own pizza from the huge selection of ingredients. Or, try the fresco medley or the chicken cacciatore pizza.

Capo's Cove is located at 510 S. Park Avenue in Fox Lake, overlooking the beautiful Pistakee Lake.

For reservations, information, or delivery orders call 973-0001.

RJ's pizza is on Santa's list

Too tired to cook after holiday shopping? Give yourself a break and enjoy a delicious meal at RJ's Eatery, 1913 E. Grand Ave. in Lindenhurst.

Every night is a different tasty all-you-can-eat adventure that will satisfy even the most hearty appetites.

Start the week off right with the Sunday breakfast buffet from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. for only $5.95 ($3.95 for senior citizens and children). A vast array of all the breakfast favorites from eggs to pancakes, waffles and French toast sticks to biscuits and gravy accompanied by bacon, sausage and fresh fruit. Those looking for an old-fashioned Sunday dinner are invited to stop later in the day for roast turkey or pork with all the trimmings.

Monday's fare includes mouth-watering broasted chicken; on Tuesday, $3.95 will buy all the pizza you can eat. A spaghetti feast on Wednesday for $4.95, the $6.95 barbecued beef ribs on Thursday, and the Friday fish fry for $6.95 complete the week. Saturdays are special with as many Alaskan Snow crab legs as you can eat for $13.95.

The regular menu includes everything from a full selection of sandwiches to the latest in Southwestern fare. The wide variety of tempting dinner items makes RJ's the ideal place to bring the family. Everyone is sure to find his favorite!

Lunchtime treats during the week include two daily specials from $3.95, including a cup of soup.

Bring the kids to "Lunch with Santa" from noon to 2 p.m. Dec. 18. Kids aged 10 and under can stuff themselves with pizza, pop and an ice cream bar, and Santa will have a surprise for each of them. The cost is $4.95 per person. Reservations are required; call 356-2300.

The restaurant will close at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve, but the Outback Bar will remain open until 1 a.m. Come in and share a special Christmas drink. RJ's will be closed Christmas Day.

Several dinner specials will be offered on New Year's Eve. It's not too soon to make your reservations. Call 356-2300.

Bank employees to gain over 50 percent control

First National will offer stock options

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Bancshares, Inc. (ABI), the holding company owning 100 percent of the First National Bank of Antioch, has announced two transactions which will allow its Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) to acquire over 50 percent control of the bank.

"It's a win-win situation," explained Ted Axton, President and Chief Executive Officer of both ABI and the bank. "We are really excited about this."

The ESOP has agreed to purchase 10,850 shares of ABI common stock from its controlling shareholder group and ABI will offer to re-purchase up to 14,633 shares of its remaining common stock. Both transactions will be for cash at $300 a share.

As a result of the transaction, ABI plans to issue approximately $1.5 million worth of preferred stock. It is expected to be purchased by members of its board of directors as well as companies and individuals in the community.

According to Axton, the board of directors, employees and customers are greeting the news with enthusiasm. From the customer's standpoint, the bank will remain a full service, stand alone community bank.

From the employees standpoint, they will be the de-facto controlling stockholders. Employees will see a more direct result of efficiency and good customer service as the value of their stock increases.

The board of directors hopes to see positive results not only for their employees, but are pleased to see the institution remain a community bank that is locally owned.

"New ground has been turned here," said Axton. "As best as we can determine, this will be the first ESOP anywhere in the United States to acquire over 50 percent control of its own bank."

So far, the Federal Reserve System has been receptive to the idea. The transfer must be approved by the Federal Reserve System, ABI shareholders, and the ESOP participants.

"We will be submitting the application as soon as possible," explained Axton. "Not later than 30 days, which would be January 8."

The issue will be going to the shareholders for approval in mid-February. The transaction must take place before June 30 or the agreement will expire.

The First National Bank of Antioch has been serving the area since 1926, when it was founded by C.K. Anderson. It has total assets of $88 million and total deposits of $78 million. The bank employs over 60 people and has two locations in Antioch and Gurnee.

Lake County retailers booming this holiday

by AUDREY DRISCOLL
Lakeland Newspapers

Lake County merchants have ushered in the holiday season to the sweet melody of ringing cash registers.

After several sluggish years in the retail industry, stores are starting to see an increase in traffic. Many store owners credit this to a general upswing in the economy, but others say it is the result of strategic advertising and promotion campaigns.

Three-year old Gurnee Mills, the largest mall in the Chicago area, looked like grand central station the day after Thanksgiving, typically the busiest day of the shopping season.

Denise Philippi, assistant director of marketing for the mall, said store owners noticed an increase in traffic around mid-October. She expects the crowds to keep coming to the mall up until Christmas day.

Gurnee Mills is one mall that has employed creative marketing techniques to draw customers. The mall last year launched an aggressive holiday television advertising campaign. And this year the mall has been able to attach itself to special tour packages going through Chicago. Last weekend a bus load of tourists from Switzerland jumped on I-94 and made their way to the mall.

In a county as littered with discount malls as Lake County, it is hard for an area like Long Grove which features old fashioned shops and boutiques to compete.

But Patricia Frontain, president of the Long Grove merchants association and the owner of Long Grove Carriage, said the village appeals to a different audience than the larger malls in Lake County or the pricey shops of Michigan Avenue.

"People come here for the shopping and the atmosphere," Frontain said. "We try to make it look like a little town at the turn of the century with carriage rides and carolers and cider presses."

The problem some Long Grove merchants face is that while people come to browse, they do not always come to shop. Frontain said she had heard from various Long Grove businesses that sales were not as strong this year as in years past. But she said the relatively mild winter weather should improve sales in the next few weeks which typically are the busiest. The Friday following Thanksgiving was particularly icy and Long Grove sales may have suffered, Frontain said.

Long Grove has also used the tour bus ideas to attract groups from around the midwest.

Lake County home prices climb almost 10 percent

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

Median home prices in Lake County recorded a healthy 9.9 percent rise compared to sales a year ago.

According to the third quarter price survey of existing single family detached homes compiled by the Illinois Association of Realtors, statewide prices rose from a median of $98,500 to $103,700.

Lake County's increase translated to a median price of $133,500, with the village of Barrington posting a 9.4 percent rise at $229,300. Home prices in McHenry County rose 7.9 percent to a median of $130,400.

The highest increase for the state was in Lamoine Valley, where homes rose 29.4 percent to $44,500.

The Lake County figure for the third quarter of 1992 was $121,500, and $119,400 in 1991.

The median figure is not an average, but computed from an equal number of houses selling at above and below that price.

Realtors report that buyers are more selective and shopping around more before making a decision.

Although most customers are from Grayslake and the surrounding area, Bertler and her capable staff "will go anywhere." They receive a lot of referrals from current clients.

The reason for this is simple.

"We provide wonderful service and we produce a quality product," said Bertler. "We are very creative and our pricing is very competitive."

"Each customer is treated equally," she added, no matter how big or small the project.

Bertler prides herself on the excellent reputation Wall & Window Concepts has achieved.

"We provide complete interior design service," she said. "The quality remains long after the price is forgotten."

Regular showroom hours at Wall & Window Concepts are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. Special appointments may be arranged at the convenience of the customer. Call 223-3267.

Physicians are entrepreneurs

by SUZIE REED

Dr. Terrence S. Carden Jr. of Lincolnshire was among 32 individuals inducted into the 1993 Entrepreneurship Hall of Fame.

Carden is president of Emergency Physicians Group located in Vernon Hills. The corporation provides over 100 doctors full- and part-time to area facilities including Lake Forest Hospital, Highland Park Hospital, Rush North Shore Medical Center and the Great Lakes Naval Hospital. The physicians are not all emergency staff, says Carden, over half are in primary care.

"We didn't start out to be entrepreneurs," Carden explained. "The TEFRA law required hospital-based physicians to be billed separately for hospital care. To survive you had to have some kind of business acumen. It made capitalists out of us."

Present investment decisions should be influenced by needs

Present investment decisions should be influenced by our future needs. There's a direct relationship between the amount of money we wish to accumulate and the number of years we have to accumulate it.

To illustrate, let's assume you wish to accumulate a $12,000 college education fund for your newborn child. You believe the child will enter college in 20 years,

The more time we have, the fewer dollars we need.

Advice we receive on investments should be weighed in relation to the source. I'm reminded of the cartoon, two hobos sitting on a park bench discussing their investment strategy. I tend to discount advice from the never-do-wells or one stands to benefit strongly on the advice he or she distributes.

Investing, as we've mentioned before, should not be based on hot tips or hunches. When you select a broker or advisor, ask for his or her philosophy on investing, get to know the broker or advisor you choose. Once you trust your broker, take him or her into your complete confidence and explain in detail your goals and resources. The more your advisor or broker knows you and what you want, the better he or she will be able to serve you. Remember what we've said before, it's your money, so ask questions and get answers! Don't be shy!

Board turns back attempt to stop study

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

An effort to put to a halt a study on the extension of Yorkhouse Road to Route 41 was stymied by the majority of Lake County Board members.

The board told an audience of concerned citizens from two groups that the extension was not a "done deal" and that further votes would need to be taken.

"That is something that is not wanted by the public. We should put it on the agenda right now, and that we also extend our motion to say abandon the project immediately," board member Suzi Schmidt said. "These people deserve a vote from this board."

Schmidt later requested the three-quarter of a mile extension be placed on the January agenda.

"We voted to study the possibility to see if it is possible to put Yorkhouse through and make it environmentally responsible," board member James LaBelle said. "We were not approving any construction."

Representatives of two groups were allowed to present their views to the board.

The board majority did not act on Schmidt's motion.

Nick Linsalata, representing Citizens for a Better County, pointed out Wadsworth and Newport Township oppose the road. Some 400 people have signed petitions opposing the road extension near wetland areas.

"During the last few months, we've been gathering information to try and understand why this road should be built. At the same time, we keep asking our county board and transportation officials why they need to build it? We've gotten a lot of answers, but not one has been good, let alone convincing. This leads us to conclude that there is no good reason to continue with this project," Linsalata said.

He told the board traffic on Wadsworth Road is at 65 percent capacity, which is the opposite of the county's statement of a congested road. Documents show the plan to extend Yorkhouse Road was deleted at McCarthy Road at I-94 in Jan., 1990.

The group is not convinced the road is needed due to any evacuation plans for the Zion nuclear plant.

"We are not convinced that this project won't harm the wetland demonstration project. Don Hey, director of the project, has said the road would have significant historical and environmental impact, and be prone to flooding. While it has been said the road will be built on former farm land, in actuality, it would slice through four zoned wetlands, two of which meet the criteria of quality wetlands," Linsalata said.

The group is opposed to cars idling in "scenic turnouts spewing carbon monoxide, gasoline, oil and other pollutants," he said.

"The voters of Lake County are angry about this proposed expenditure of their money. Having a road shoved down our throat that we don't want or need, amounts to taxation without representation and we want our board members to know we expect better accountability from our county government,"

Linsalata said.

"What are the real costs of this road. Can you put a price on clean air and clean water? Is it OK to disrupt an internationally acclaimed environmental project which provides flood relief and a habitat for flora and fauna? Is it worth sacrificing the trust and confidence of your constituents by voting for something they don't want?" Candye Nannini of Citizens Association for a Rural Environment said.

She said residents are not benefiting from the project, so who is?

"After considering all of these questions, there should be no doubt in your mind that the citizens of Lake County don't want this road extension. Therefore, this is no justifiable reason to continue this study," Nannini said.

Word came out on the presentations on Friday.

"Between the two groups that were represented, we had a decent turnout," Linsalata said.

"A fire. A tree. Stockings. Presents. Santa Claus is coming..."

by SUZIE REED

The holiday season is a favorite time of year at the Lindenhurst home of Randee Rian, perched on the shore of Lake Potomac. Every winter, she transforms her rooms into a Christmas wonderland, each one more delightful than the last.

"I've always enjoyed Christmas; I enjoy going to stores," she admitted.

"I start making decora-

It has evidently infected her husband Jim and her daughter Alexis, who both pitch in with the decorations. (Cont. on next page) year-round displays. A lighted curio cabinet in the living room holds over 15 different Santas.

"It's fun to have collections out; it shows part of your personality," she said. "The hardest thing is storage."

A very special display nearby features a traditional nativity scene, acquired many years ago by Rian's parents. The figures are much larger than most such sets and exquisitely detailed. The display holds many precious memories for the family.

Much of Rian's furniture is antique oak, carefully collected over the years. Accessories are cleverly placed among the pieces. A collection of duck decoys sits under a gun display. Kitchen implements are displayed on an antique table.

The Christmas look is enhanced with Poinsettias next to a china display and the tree theme is further carried into a Christmas quilt.

Rian's tips for decorating are simple: "Use what you have. You don't have to spend a lot of money." A lot of time, yes, and perhaps some of the talent and the decorating eye that Rian is seemingly lucky enough to possess.

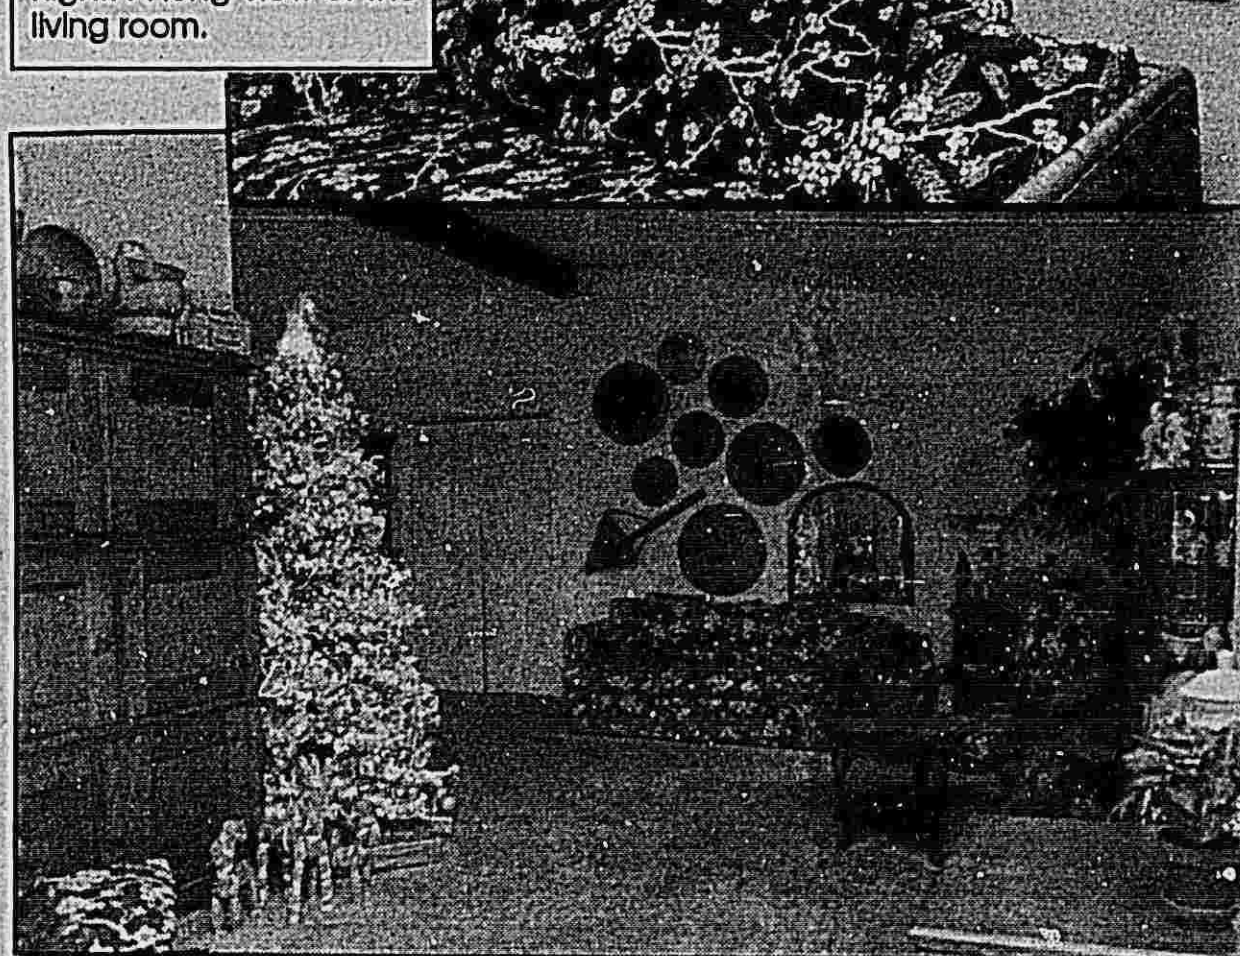

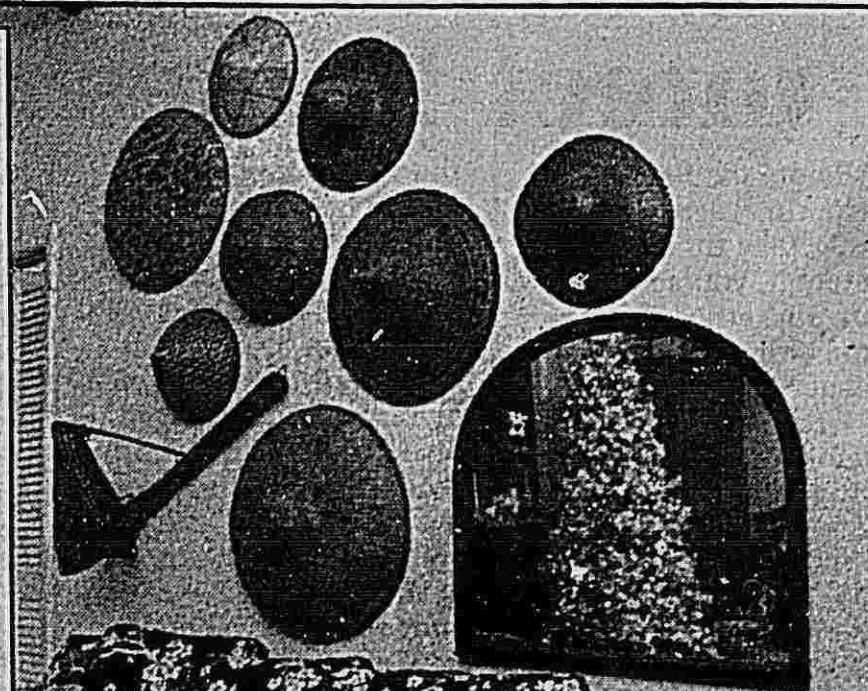

Far left: The ornaments on the kitchen tree were made to match the colors in the quilt.

Upper right: The white and gold tree is reflected in a mirror next to Rian's collection of Asian hats.

Right: A long view of the living room.

Protect homes against winter's icy blasts

Before the first icy blasts slash against your house, take time out to protect it, yourselves, and your pocketbook through some simple home maintenance procedures.

First of all, you want to take a look at the energy saving things you can do easily and inexpensively. Home Owners Warranty Corp. (HOW), the nationwide builder warranty/insurance program, has developed a special list of things that homeowners should attend to.

Start with your furnace. Check the operation manual for guidance. Then clean or replace air filters. See if your heat exchange needs cleaning. Are there any leaks? Do all the valves operate correctly? Just as in air-conditioning units, the more efficiently your furnace works the less fuel it will take to run it.

Is your home warmed by radiators? If so, then bleed them. You'll find that many will have collected air. If you've lost your key you can buy one at the local hardware store. Be sure you put a bowl under the valve to collect the water. Then turn the valve until a few drops of water come out. Close quickly. Do this carefully.

Check your thermostat. Is it really reflecting actual temperature?

Everyone is talking about insulation, and there are many special deals available. Check carefully before selecting your insulator, if you decide that you want to beef yours up or replace it.

Check to see that ducts are insulated, particularly if they run through the attic or garage where they are exposed to cold air.

If you've an electrical outlet on the exterior, put a cover on it to keep the cold air from seeping inside. Then check your weather-stripping. If it is cracked or comes loose, replace it or repair it. Caulk around the windows and doors. Also caulk around outdoor faucets.

While working on the faucets, drain them and cut off the valve. Frozen pipes are very expensive repairs. Take in your hose, it will last longer.

HOW has found that a great many problems stem from improper maintenance of the landscaping. Your builder will have graded the land away from your house. It should always be kept with a slope to carry water off. Since new houses sit on newly churned soil, the earth will sometimes settle more than expected, leaving little depressions that water can accumulate in or that drain toward the foundation. Fill these immediately, as they are one of the biggest causes of leaky basements.

Check on your gutters and downspouts. Are they clean of debris? HOW has discovered that a lot of people don't understand why there are splash blocks under downspouts. They carry water away. Be sure they are in position slanting away from your house.

If you have a fireplace, you have a potential heat loss. Keep the damper closed when not in use. If the chimney is sooty, toss a handful of salt on the fire to help de-soot it. (Don't do this with metal flues). Every five years or so, depending on the amount of use, chimneys should be professionally cleaned.

Baking soda makes a handy extinguisher

Did you know that baking soda is a handy extinguisher for small grease fires (fry pan, broiler, toaster oven, barbecue grill) and small electrical fires (small appliances, heaters, electrical outlets)? To extinguish the fire, turn off the gas or electricity, or unplug the appliance if possible. Then toss handfuls of baking soda at the base of the flames.

When baking soda is heated, it releases carbon dioxide, which smothers flames. Just rinse the baking soda off and you can still enjoy the meal.

Keep in mind that baking soda should be used to extinguish only small fires. It should not be used in deep fat fryers, as grease may splatter and spread flames.

Golden colors create a warm, welcoming room

A room decorated in autumn colors, golden orange, rich olive green, warm beiges are among the relaxing palette of colors. These rich warm hues create a mood that makes you feel relaxed and comfortable. This type of room is normally traditional and very down-to-earth.

Patterns and prints would include plaids, stripes and the ever popular paisley. Woven textures also characterize this season's decoration. Accessories can express the look as well. Old dignified leather pieces, antiqued brass and even wooden ducks convey the aura of autumn.

If this style appeals to you, then maybe it's time to update that one room in your home that never quite felt warm and welcoming.

The introduction of a few unique and well placed accessories in the right places can achieve a fresh new look in the home. One of the hottest motifs today include masses of sunflowers, either as a floral arrangement or as a pattern on fabric, often complemented by rustic crockery.

Grapes and grape leaves are really coming on strong, whether displayed alone or as part of an arrangement.

Celestial themes in Dimensions in Decorating

burnished gold on black or navy blue are wonderful in both contemporary and traditional homes, with whimsical smiling suns, moons, stars and cherubs on screens, fabric and wall coverings.

Colors gaining in popularity reflect this growing emphasis on nature's motifs. While pastels will always be with us, the fabrics on the horizon have a greater intensity and depth. Consumers are becoming less intimidated by color and are asking for the deep blues, rosy reds and the rich greens of nature. Those who prefer a stronger look are using cranberry, hunter green, deep teal and navy blue.

The use of black as a major player in a color scheme remains popular. Since most of these intense colors are used on a few pieces rather than throughout the room or home they carry more visual impact. The inclusion of neutral colors and natural wood tones guarantee they will wear well over the years.

Another option for the traditional decorator is the world of "passementerie," a term that encompasses trimming such as braids, cords, fringes, tassels and rosettes dates back to the ancient civilizations of Egypt, Greece, Rome, China, Mexico and Peru.

Originally used to conceal seams and tacks, today its purpose is ornamental as well. You'll see them edging a drape or a chair, on pillows, tying back a drape, and even holding a painting or a picture.

Some of the most common types of passementerie are:

Gimp: A flat, narrow, woven braid or cord of fabric, sometimes stiffened, used to trim draperies, cornices and upholstery.

Tassels: Hanging ornaments made of a head and a skirt of cut or looped yarns or bullion cord.

Fringe: A narrow woven or knitted textile with a heading and attached skirt. The heading looks like a gimp or braid, but the skirt may hang in a cut fringe, be twisted in a bullion or looped.

Cord: A string of twisted strands used on upholstered and carved furniture or on cushions.

Cords may be used to edge draperies trim top of valences, add interest to pillows and are even hung free-form on swagged top treatments.

So whether you tie back a drape with passementerie or use it lavishly, you're sure to find what you need to complete that look.

Portable music players rock, hop and skip-not

A new generation of portable music players are taking tunes where they've never gone before. If exercise is your bag, then you have probably found the old walking or jogging routine to be a little boring and repetitive at times. Now, exercisers can step to a catchy musical beat and keep track of their workout progress with a product called the Sportable.

A built-in calorie counter lets the Sportable user watch the calories burning away on an LCD readout as the AM/FM cassette player provides the appropriate workout tempo. The pedometer records the impact of the exerciser's feet to calculate the distance covered while walking, speed-walking or jogging. And a multi-function LCD readout displays all exercise functions.

For someone who would enjoy using his or her new CD collection on-the-go or in the car, some of the latest personal portable CD players offer digital anti-shock circuitry to keep the music playing despite bumps or curves in the road. Music plays from a 3-second memory buffer that allows the tracking system time to recover in case of shock. A car adapter fits into your car's cassette player for a quick update.

Knowing how construction funding works is a must

by RICHARD PREVES

For most of us the cost of building a new house will be our largest financial transaction. Even constructing an addition or an extensive remodeling project can end up as a significant investment.

A basic understanding of construction financing and the cash flow process, therefore, is a must for the educated consumer.

Although there are many ways of accomplishing project financing, the most common method involves two loans. A construction loan, a short-term loan usually tied to the prime interest rate, is required to fund the actual construction.

A permanent loan or mortgage, also known as an end-loan or take-out loan, comes into effect after completion of construction to pay-off the construction loan.

In today's ever expanding mortgage market, there are alternative avenues for securing the financing you need. A conventional bank will give you the short term construction loan, but may not be interested in the permanent mortgage financing. Certain lenders, on the other hand, will only be interested in the long-term permanent mortgage. You may be required to find two different financial sources.

To secure a construction loan, the lender evaluates specifics common to all loans; your ability to pay the monthly charges, and the value of you collateral, namely your new project.

Arriving at a value for a new home requires an appraisal conducted by the lender. An appraiser, hired by the lender, who is familiar with real estate values in your area will need at least a preliminary set of architectural plans to assess the size and quality of the new construction on the proposed site.

This appraisal value and your credit worthiness will determine how much the lender will finance. Often the lender will also require a written proposal for construction from a contractor to evaluate along with the appraisal.

Typically, construction loans will be given between 70 percent to 80 percent of the appraisal value. This means that you are responsible for providing the remainder of the balance. Traditionally, you are required to put in your portion first before the lender will begin their loan funding.

Many new home owners-to-be have their funds tied-up in the equity of their present home, which is not available until that property is sold. Since they do not wish to sell and close on their present home until the new project is complete, another loan, known as a bridge loan, can solve this problem.

This bridge loan is lent using the equity in your present home a collateral. It is another short-term loan usually made by a conventional bank to make funds available for the first 20 percent to 30 percent the home owner requires as discussed above. A home equity loan could also accomplish the same requirement.

Once the construction has finished and the project is fully occupied, the permanent end mortgage will pay off all the short-term loans you have arranged for construction.

Now that we have discussed where the money comes from, our next article will describe the proper procedures for dispersing the construction loan funds.

Fireplaces add warmth, beauty to homes

A two-story fireplace adds impact to the family room.

Fireplaces can work magic in the minds of both homeowners and home-lookers. Not only do they conjure romantic images, and establish an architectural focal point, but they also evoke warm feelings of hearth and home. For these reasons, the fireplace is emerging as an essential amenity in today's home design. According to Professional Builder magazine's Consumer Survey, homebuyers said they would opt for a fireplace over other upgrades offered in their new home. Consequently, fireplaces have become major options not only in the family room, but in the living room, master bedroom and even the master bedroom.

Lexington Homes has increased the number and style of fireplaces it offers in its eleven communities of single and multi-family residences including Grayslake and Round Lake Beach.

With today's busy lifestyle, the fireplace has become a central point for family gatherings and entertaining," says Dick Van Schaardenburg, president. "Since 70 percent of all our homebuyers expressed the desire to have at least one fireplace somewhere in their new home, we now offer a wider variety of optional fireplace designs in a multitude of materials and colors."

Lexington's newest addition to its fireplace line is its cozy corner fireplace specifically selected for the Classic and Premier homes. Offering a two-sided view of the fire from any vantage point, this unusual design is topped with cut out niches allowing for knick knock and collectible displays.

Lexington homebuyers may select the look of their fireplace to satisfy their individual tastes. That's why the builder offers fireplaces in Contemporary, Victorian, Colonial, Rustic and Classic Brick styles. For example, homebuyers can choose a contemporary sleek-lined model with molded insets for that California look. Its simple styling is compatible with any decor. Another contemporary version features classic elegance using marble or ceramic tiles to adorn the facade and hearth.

For people who want to preserve the Colonial look, Lexington homeowners can choose a fireplace with a brick surround from a wide selection of fifteen colors to match their decor. In addition, stained or painted oak trim, and a slate hearth enrich the traditional design.

To recall images of the past, Lexington designs an architecturally impressive Victorian fireplace with painted or stained oak and a choice of marble or ceramic tile surround. Its matching hearth is flush with the floor, while the mantle's classic trim accents complete the look.

A Rustic look can be achieved in any home with a magnificent soaring two-story stone fireplace. The homeowner then has a choice of a stained or painted oak mantle, and a slate hearth to round out the design.

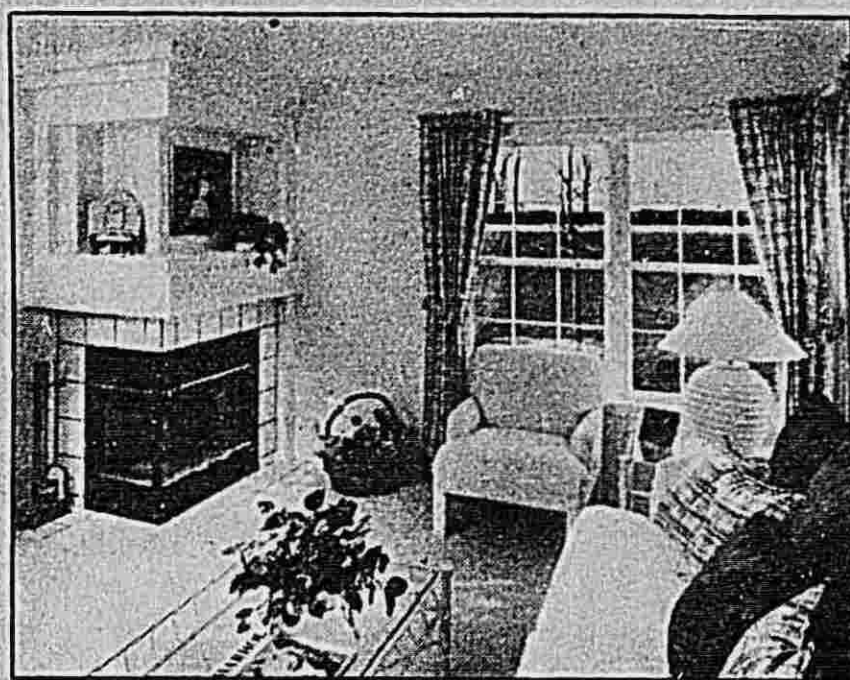

For instance, high columns emanating from the fireplace can emphasize the room's height and volume space. From the exterior, tall chimney columns give a home additional depth and character. Different shapes, sizes and designs, such as two-sided corner or three-sided styles allow the fireplace to be positioned in various areas of the room.

Depending on their preference, Lexington homebuyers have the choice of natural wood-burning or gas-burning fireplaces. All of Lexington's wood-burning fireplaces have gas starters that allow owners to dispense with kindling and light the logs quickly and easily. Gas burning fireplaces, with artificial logs, are perfect for homeowners who enjoy the sight of warm fires but do not want to take the time to light logs, or clean and maintain flues. Yet wood-burning fireplaces are the most popular choice among Lexington homebuyers because many people enjoy the sight and smell of natural wood.

With so many styles, colors and materials to choose from, it is no wonder that the fireplace has become one of the most popular features in homes.

Corner fireplace offers two-sided view of the fire from any vantage point.

OBITUARIES

Chester W. Kare

Age 61 of 3506 Washington Rd., Kenosha, WI and formerly of New Munster, WI and Round Lake, IL passed away Thursday morning, December 9, 1993 at the Brookside Care Center in Kenosha following a long illness. He was born on January 7, 1932 in Chicago, IL, the son of the late Martin C. and Gertrude M. Mense Kare. He served as a sergeant in the U.S. Army during the Korean Conflict. He worked as a maintenance man for the Round Lake School District, retiring in 1984.

Mr. Kare is survived by two daughters, Margaret Brey of Burlington, WI and Patricia Shingleton of Dubuque, Iowa; six grandchildren; and two brothers, Elbert Jewel of Union Grove, WI and Kenneth Kare (unknown where he lives).

Funeral services were held at 7 PM Saturday, December 11, 1993 at the Haase Funeral Chapel of Twin Lakes with Pastor Lance Trussell officiating. Cremation followed.

Letty Ruth Brawley Nickerson Rodriguez

Letty Ruth Brawley Nickerson Rodriguez was born June 4, 1941, at Winona, Missouri, the daughter of Lee Lyle and Iva Myrtle Bland Brawley. She passed away December 4, 1993, at Winona, Missouri, at the age of 52 years. Letty had been employed with the Marathon Postal Service in Marathon, FL. She attended the Church of God of Prophecy in Winona, and worked with the "Big Sister, Big Brother Association".

She was preceded in death by two sisters, Betty Ann Mills and Barbara Ann Brawley. She is survived by her parents, Lee and Iva Brawley of Winona, Missouri; two sons, Jeffrey David Nickerson of El Paso, TX and Russell Wayne Nickerson of Marathon, FL; two daughters, Bonnie Lee Hacker of Marathon, FL and Wendy Sue Herron of Lake Villa, IL; two brothers, Lee Richard Brawley of Sedalia, MO and Lyle Simon Brawley of Winona, MO; one sister, Dorothy Ellen Brooks of Ingleside, IL; and eleven grandchildren, William, Candice, Julie, James, Jesse, Alisha, Jennifer, Jennifer Wynn, Justin, Lindsey, and Jessica.

Funeral services were held December 8, 1993, at the Duncan Funeral Chapel in Winona with Rev. Calvin Jones officiating. Interment was in Pinelawn Cemetery under the direction of Duncan Funeral Home of Winona.

"When Letty, our beloved mother, daughter, sister, and grandmother, confessed her faith in Christ, we all knew she would be at peace. Thank you for being the wonderful person you were. You will be in our hearts and thoughts each and every day. You will be deeply missed, and you were and still are truly loved."

Griefnotes

Can I plan my funeral before I die?

Many people plan their funeral ahead of time to be sure their wishes are carried out. You can make an appointment with us and we will help you consider every option. Final decisions are completely left to you without any pressure from us. A funeral is a family matter. Whenever possible you should communicate your wishes to your children and other family members. Then when death occurs they will be comfortable knowing they are following wishes you made together. With the funeral pre-planned fewer decisions will have to be made during a crises period and satisfaction is assured for all. If you choose not to include your family in your planning it is important that you leave your plans in a place where they can be located. Give them to your clergyman, a son or daughter or leave them with us.

When you must... call: H. H. Hamsher

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: For the past four years I have been employed as a cashier in a retail store. I would like to make a change to a more corporate environment with benefits. Because of a lack of office skills, could you suggest an approach I might take? D.P.

A: Dear D.P. With the amount of cashiering experience and stability you have had, you would be a natural fit in a Bank Teller position. This will allow you to build on your cash handling and customer service skills. Banks typically offer outstanding benefits to their employees. Good luck.

Q: Dear...Search: While practicing my interviewing techniques for an upcoming interview it was told to me by a friend that I had poor eye contact. I do get nervous during an interview, is direct eye contact very important? G.R.

A: Dear G.R. Eye contact during an interview, no matter how nervous you may be, is very important. To look a person straight in the eye develops a sense of interest and trust. If your eyes wander around the room, you rapidly lose the attention of the interviewer, who may be of the impression that you are not interested in the position.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

I HELPED SAVE A SMALL LIFE TODAY!

We don't destroy homeless animals! They live their full lives uncaged if not adopted. We spay and neuter, conduct a dynamic pet visitation/therapy program for the elderly, provide education programs for young people and offer a special "pet retirement" program. THANK YOU FOR YOUR HELP!

SAFFRON

The Saffron has a front porch that just won't stop. It sweeps across most of the lengthy front facade, then wraps around to span the entire right side as well. Outdoor living space is also available on the front-facing deck off the guest suite, and a rear deck off the kitchen and family room. Decorative brick work adds a traditional touch to a mostly wood exterior.

This mid-sized country contemporary home is designed to provide the space an active family needs to spread out. It has a possible five bedrooms. If fewer are needed, one could be reserved as a guest suite and the one by the front door used as a home office.

Formal rooms are to the left of the entry. A half-round window nestles under a high dormer, creating a bright vaulted living room. The dining room has a built-in hutch that also serves as a buffet.

Daily living takes place in the spacious kitchen/family room, at the rear. Nothing but an eating bar divides the area. The walk-in pantry is huge, and directly accessible through face-frame cabinets. Other amenities include built-in appliances and a garden window.

A fireplace in the master bedroom offers the pleasure of falling asleep while flickering shadows of flame dance on the ceiling. And closet space is so generous that the owners will have to work hard to fill it. There's a long wall closet, a large walk-in closet, and a built-in vanity. Luxuries in the private bathroom include a skylight, oversized shower, raised spa tub, and dual lavs. An exterior door opens onto the porch, and just inside the interior door there's a security system.

Two of the secondary bedrooms share a bathroom outfitted with twin basins, while the guest suite has a private bathroom and a private deck. Utilities are in a small room next to the wide, three car garage. A deep sink is built into the workbench. This location is convenient for clean-up after gardening or working in the garage.

"I placed this ad on a Tuesday in Lakeland Newspapers because, being a Wauconda Leader subscriber, I wanted my home offered locally. The Classified Ad-Visor helped write the copy and designed the ad in a very appealing manner, and it appeared in all 14 Lakeland Newspapers that Friday. By the next day I had received over 25 calls on the house. It was rented that day, but I still continued to receive calls, even two weeks after the ad ran.

Thanks, Lakeland. Great results!"

Christmas Tree Directory

Christmas tree traditions and folklore

A multicultural tradition

This year over 36 million American families will celebrate the holidays with the fragrance and beauty of a real Christmas tree.

The tree, used as a symbol of life, is a tradition older than Christianity and not exclusive to any one religion. It's a part of our holiday customs that engages not only our senses of sight, touch and smell, but also our sense of tradition, hope and good will.

Long before there was a Christmas, Egyptians brought green palm branches into their homes on the shortest day of the year in December as a symbol of life's triumph over death.

Romans adorned their homes with evergreens during Saturnalia, a winter festival in honor of Saturnus, their god of agriculture. Druid priests decorated oak trees with golden apples for their winter solstice festivities.

In the middle ages, the Paradise tree, an evergreen hung with red apples, was the symbol of the feast of Adam and Eve held on Dec. 24.

The Christmas tree in Germany, Europe and the United States

The first recorded reference to the Christmas tree dates back to the 16th century. In Strasbourg, Germany, families both rich and poor decorated fir trees with colored paper, fruits and sweets. The retail Christmas tree lot also dates back that far—in those times, older women would sell trees harvested from nearby forests in the marketplace.

The tradition spread through Europe and was brought to the United States by German settlers and by Hessian mercenaries paid to fight in the Revolutionary War. In 1804 U.S. soldiers stationed at Fort Dearborn (now Chicago) hauled trees from surrounding woods to their barracks at Christmas.

The popularity of the Christmas tree then proliferated. Charles Minnegrode introduced the custom of decorating trees in Williamsburg, Va. in 1842. In 1851, Mark Carr hauled two ox sleds loaded with trees from the Catskills to the streets of New York and opened the first retail lot in the United States.

The White House Christmas tree

Franklin Pierce, our 14th President, brought the Christmas tree tradition to the White House. In 1923, President Calvin Coolidge started the National Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony now held every year on the White House lawn.

Since 1966, members of the National Christmas Tree Assn. have presented a beautiful, fresh Christmas tree to the President and First Family. This tree is displayed each year in the Blue Room of the White House.

VILLAGE CHURCH OF GURNEE PRESENTS

"HE IS BORN... CHILD DIVINE"

Sunday, December 19th at 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

Mary's life was perfectly planned. But God had ordained for this virgin girl to be the mother of His own Son. It must have been a devastating blow to both Mary and Joseph's parents to hear that she was expecting a child. In the midst of fears and grief, God's plan was not only for their good, but also for the salvation of the entire world.

Plan to join us to experience this meaningful Christmas story. May this musical offering help you find peace in the midst of those "divine surprises" that come from the hand of a loving Heavenly Father.

Defense, clutch free throws help Pats outlast 'Cats

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It would be hard for anyone who helped Stevenson High School "Pack The Place" Saturday afternoon not to agree with Patriots girls basketball coach Frank Mattucci.

"This is one of the finest games I have ever been associated with and a fun game to watch," he said after his team survived a 61-59 win over Libertyville.

The overtime victory over the other top 10 team in the state in Lake County was not a final blow for the Wildcats, who figure to get more chances at 9-0 Stevenson (3-0 North Suburban Conference).

"Libertyville has nothing to hang their heads about. They are a dynamite team. They play hard and keep coming at you," Mattucci said.

Defense and free throws gave the home team the edge in overtime.

Offensively, LHS (7-1, 3-1) adjusted to Tamika (11 points) and Tajuja Catchings (14 points) but could not stop the outside shooting of Trish DeClark (14 points). Kelly Karl started slowly but finished with 23 points.

"We shut down their inside. I am very proud of that. We did not box out on the defensive boards in the third and fourth quarters," Mattucci said.

"They lived and died by the outside shot and they almost lived," Mattucci said.

"We let anyone shoot three's. We'll have two more games against them and we are looking forward to it," LHS Coach Tom Murphy said.

Stevenson senior Danielle Mall did not score until the fourth quarter, but she did it at critical times. The 5-11 forward-center broke a Pats scoring spell and cut the LHS largest margin from four to two. With 1:16 left, she hit a jumper for a 50-50 tie. The two teams were knotted at 52-all as the score after regulation.

In overtime, Mall muscled her way to a basket with :45 left and hit the three-point play for a 58-56 hosts lead. Soph Katie Coleman then showed why she shoots better than 80 percent from the free-throw line as she calmly sank the two game-winning free throws.

"I was not thinking I have to make the shot, just concentrating on the game. I knew Libertyville would give us a tough game," Mall said.

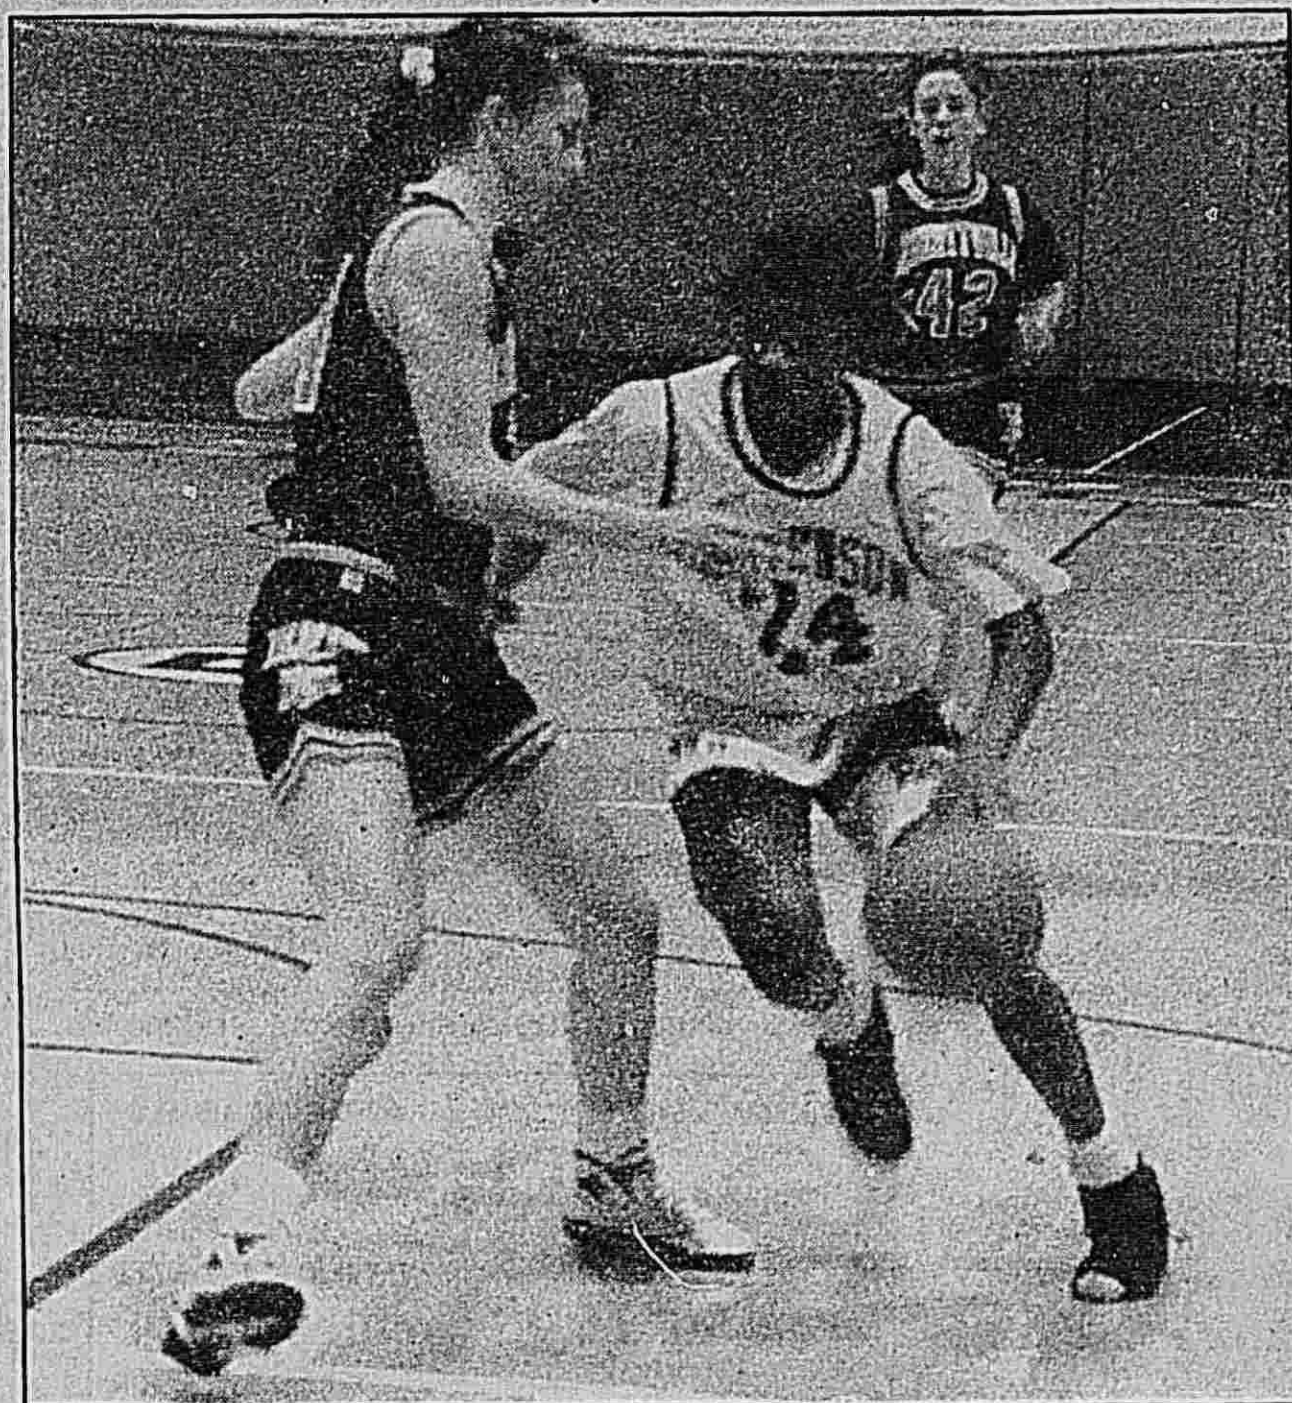

Mall had the task of guarding Lindsey Celba (13 points). "I did not want to let her get a lot of three's," Mall said.

"Mall came alive in the second half. She played a real strong defensive first half. She was concentrating so hard on defense, she did not want to shoot the ball in the first half. She is the senior on the floor," Mattucci said.

Stevenson brushed back Fenton 72-34 behind 22 points from Tamika Catchings and it was the frosh who excited the home crowd early against LHS. She scored five points early as SHS built an eight-point lead against the LHS man-to-man defense.

Libertyville rallied to trim the gap to 20-17 Sarah Weiss (nine points) free throws. The contest was close when Karl hit a three at the buzzer, the first of two buzzer-beaters from the senior at the end of halves.

Libertyville looks to bounce back against non-conference foe Maine South Dec. 18. Stevenson is at North Chicago for a 2:30 p.m. conference tilt.

Stackhouse, inside attack keep Mustangs ahead in NSC

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Mundelein High's boys basketball team used a combination of more than a few happy returns and a tough, if not under publicized, inside game, to dominate North Chicago.

The Mustangs won in a 99-75 route as all five starters were in double figures. The win was MHS' six in seven outings before a Dec. 17 home tilt with North Suburban Conference foe Lake Forest.

The North Chicago faithful, witnessing the first boys basketball game after a teachers' strike, gave Mundelein's Sean Stackhouse a standing ovation - both in the introduction of the starting lineups and after he scored 18 points. Stackhouse transferred from North Chicago to Mundelein this summer.

"That was a wonderful gesture. It speaks well of Sean. Coach (Joe) Walls, and his staff have been very receptive," Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel said.

"They acted like I was the same old Sean. It gave me a little chill," Stackhouse said.

Stackhouse did not get on track until later. "I started shooting outside jumpers and going to the hole. That increased my percentage a little bit," he said.

"We do not hold any animosity toward Sean. He is still part of the community," North Chicago Coach Joe Walls said.

"I thought Sean was a little tight early against his ex-teammates," Kessel said.

Kyle Kessel had 22 points to lead the way and Gerald Coleman was a consistent factor for Mundelein with 20 points. Post players Thad Miller (17 points) and Brian McMahon (14 points) had strong games.

"Having five men in double figures is what makes us tough. Kyle went cold in the third and Sean was cold early. We had someone who could pick up the slack," Kessel said.

"Our big men rebounded in the second half. Every time they got a rebound, we got a lay-up. That was the key. The inside game should be getting the respect now.

You don't just win with three guards, you need the big men," Kyle Kessel said.

"In the second half, they played extremely well," Coach Kessel said of Miller and McMahon.

Coach Kessel pointed to the several letters he received from colleges interested in Stackhouse.

Mundelein led 50-42 at halftime before quickly establishing the second half double-digit margin.

"The offense was going. The problem was getting the defense to stop somebody. They had eight offensive rebounds," Coach Kessel said.

"Their legs just got weaker in the second half. They are not deep, we felt that would be a factor, too. Our kids went down inside in the second half," Kessel said.

Coleman earned praise as he came to MHS new to organized hoops two years ago.

"He played a great game. He works at it. He is a gym rat. He is never without a basketball in his hand. He has made himself better and better. He goes hard for 32 minutes," Coach Kessel said.

Warhawks can point to 22 points from Koby Long, 10 from Joe Walls Jr. Warhawks had forfeited six games, two in North Suburban Conference play due to a teachers strike.

"We were emotionally spent. With the strike, this was our first game. Even with the practices, they were lackadaisical after a couple of weeks had elapsed and we would not play a game. These other teams have played six or seven games - this is our first game. Give us six games, give the others six games and you will see a different ballclub," Walls said.

The coach commented Mundelein is an excellent club. "We beat them twice last year. With some games under our belt, we will still be in contention," Warhawks coach Walls said.

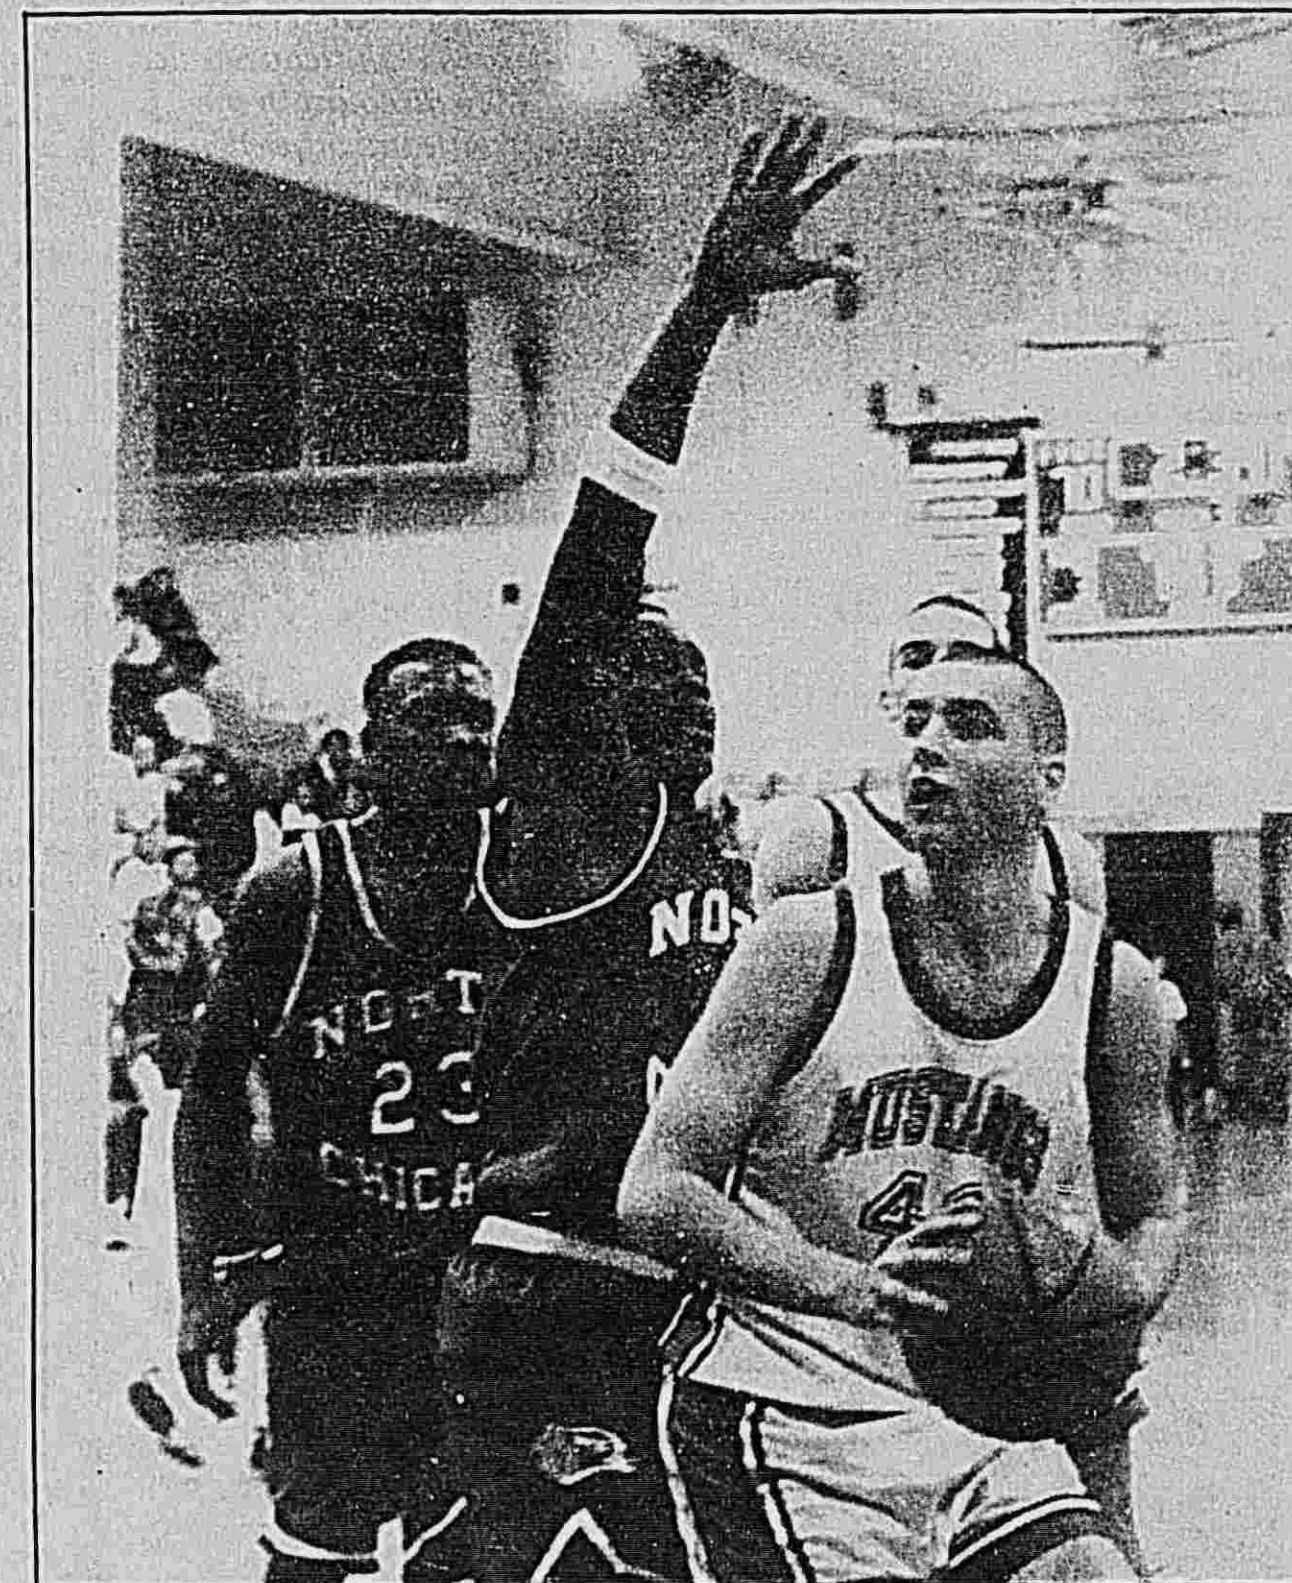

Mundelein shoots the ball extremely well, the coach said. "Once our legs left us a little bit, they were able to hit the open shot. As long as they were there, we gave them a hard time."

"Long played exceptional. He will be OK. He started for us last year. He is our leader and Joe Jr. will lead the ballclub.

"We are a young ballclub," Coach Walls said.

Brian McMahon muscled in for two of his 14 points in Mundelein's 99-75 win over North Chicago. Tyrone Whittington defends and Willie St. George looks on. Warhawks bounced back to beat Antioch in overtime. North Chicago is at Zion-Benton Dec. 17 while Mundelein hosts North Chicago. —Photo by Steve Peterson

CLC women find adjusting brings non-conference win

College of Lake County women's basketball players are learning the important art of adjusting to new roles.

Vicky Nelson and Heather Ford represented top efforts of the post players and guards, respectively as CLC crushed Harper 79-43.

"We have been working a lot on boxing out. Last year, I was an outside shooter," Nelson said.

Nelson, a six-foot forward from Grant, had 20 points and nine rebounds in the non-conference win.

The Lancers notched their third win of the year with the lopsided home win. The Lancers have only eight players on the roster, but that does not bother the ex-Bulldog. "We have alumni come in and practice with us and coach scrimmages with us," Nelson said.

Nelson said she made the decision to come to the Grayslake school after talking with Coach Don Zeman after last season. Nelson hopes to play basketball for a four-year school in Utah.

Also netting 20 points was frosh guard Heather Ford, from Wauconda. Ford is able to team up with long-time Bulldog fellow guard player Amy Scharlau (15 points).

"Last year, I was a role player, but this year I have had to step it up," Ford said.

"We played with more patience and that allows the post players to have a bigger game," Zeman said.

Julie Frankowski, a Warren grad, finished strong with 13 points and Patti Owens, from Grant, had 11 for three post players in double figures. Owens, Nelson and Frankowski each had nine rebounds. Of the Wauconda connection, the coach commented: "They have been steady all year. We cut down on turnovers and that was a big difference."

The Lancers were coming off a 65-37 loss to DuPage, a team they could face again at the end of the month at DuPage's tourney Dec. 28-29. Christy Zink had 13 points.

Harper was led by 19 points from Sara Tom. The Hawks had to play with four players the last five minutes.

CLC jumped out ahead early, on .500 shooting from the field for a 15-6 lead on a tip-in by Nelson.

Harper rallied to close the gap to one. But CLC put on a 15-2 run for a 33-19 halftime edge. Harper committed seven turnovers in that run.

CLC continued to dominate in the second half. The lead reached 20 on a driving move by Ford. Ford and Scharlau put on a 12-point run as the lead grew to 48-25 with 12:52 left.

"We need a few games like this before conference starts," Zeman said. Skyway Conference play begins Jan. 6 at Waubonsee.

Carmel hoops may lead league

The second quarter proved to be a time for spurts as Carmel's boys team won a league game but dropped a non-conference contest.

The Corsairs rebounded from a loss to Joliet Catholic with a 69-59 win over Holy Cross Saturday. Hersey topped Carmel 67-63 Tuesday.

Tom Drennan and Landon

Rose both scored 14 points for Carmel (3-5, 2-1 East Suburban Catholic Conference) in the win over Holy Cross.

Holy Cross led 16-13 after one, but Carmel took command with a 20-8 second quarter.

Led by five from Dan Stasiek (11 points), Carmel had 18-for-29 free throws.

Carmel had the three-point lead after one Tuesday. The Huskies' 20-9 run in the second was enough to off-set Carmel winning the second half.

Stasiek, a senior, had 26 points.

The Corsairs host league leader Notre Dame (6-1, 3-0) at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 17.

Here's one of the most fascinating football stories of all-time... Perhaps you know it, perhaps you don't... Back in 1942, Boston College was the number one team in the country... They were undefeated going into the last game with Holy Cross... They were heavily favored, and made reservations to hold a victory celebration after the game at a place called the Coconut Grove... However, in one of the greatest upsets in football history, Holy Cross not only beat B.C., but they beat them by the unbelievable score of 55-12... The crushed Boston College officials cancelled the "Victory" party... Then, that night the Coconut Grove burned in one of the worst disasters in history with 492 people losing their lives... The Boston College football players all might have been killed except for the fact that they lost a football game that afternoon... Fate plays strange tricks, doesn't it?

Did you know in the old days of football, coaches didn't want their players to wear numbers on their uniforms... They thought it would be better if everybody--opponents and fans--were confused about who was carrying the ball... The rule requiring teams to wear numbers on the back and front of their jerseys was not passed until 1937.

I bet you didn't know...

A home equity loan story of little interest.

4.99% APR* FIRST 6 MONTHS	6% APR* AFTER 6 MONTHS	$0 NO POINTS NO CLOSING FEES
--	-------------------------------------	--

Equity Source Account lines of $100,000 or more at 80% loan to value.

When you consider that Citibank is offering the lowest introductory rate on home equity loans in Chicago, this is actually a very exciting story of little interest. An amazing 1.01% below the prime rate for the first six months, to be exact. This means that with the prime rate currently at 6%, its lowest point in over 20 years, you'll pay only 4.99%. After that, your loan goes to the prime rate—and stays there—for the duration of the loan. But you must apply by December 31st, so call today and capitalize on this spectacular offer. All of this adds up to low monthly payments which, when combined with no points, no closing costs and no application fees, comes out to some very cheap money. Citibank also lets you use more of the equity in your home than any other bank when it comes to prime rate home equity loans. And at this rate that means more money and less interest. And your interest may be 100% tax-deductible. To take advantage of this great rate just call a Citibank Loan Specialist at 312-627-3600 ext. 5113, Monday through Friday 8 to 8, Saturday 9 to 3.

THE CITI NEVER SLEEPS®

*Rates as of 12/11/93. Offer applies to Equity Source Account lines of $100,000 or more on applications received by Citibank from 11/20/93 to 12/31/93. Introductory rate applies for the first six months after the account is opened. Rates may vary and are indexed to the Prime Rate as published on the first business day of each month in the Money Rates section of the Wall Street Journal. Lifetime cap 25%. Annual fee $20. Property insurance may be required. Offer applies to property in, and residents of, Illinois. Consult your tax advisor regarding your personal circumstances.

MHS scorekeeper Ackley appreciates good basketball

by STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers

What started as a fun idea in 1964 has evolved into a well-defined role for Jim Ackley of Mundelein.

"I started scoring basketball games at the Christmas tournament and helping John Kazarian out," Ackley recalled.

That was in 1964 and now, almost 30 years later, one can still see Jim Ackley donned in his referee-like shirt, his pens ("I have a lot of confidence in myself," he said) at the ready.

Last year, the likeable Ackley was in Champaign acting as assistant scorekeeper. This year he will be the main guy.

"You have to pay attention to the game and the officials," Ackley said.

"High school basketball is the greatest sport - better than college, the NBA, baseball or football," Ackley said.

He sees such games as the Libertyville-Mundelein contest which started the 1993-94 North Suburban Conference season as one to remember.

"They all used to be like that. No matter who we were playing, you had to get your seat by halftime of the sophomore game," Ackley said.

Mundelein won that contest before 2,000 fans with an 89-81 win. The Mustangs are front-runners in the county at 7-1.

As enjoyable as the win over Libertyville and the 99-point showing against North Chicago are, then there are games such as the 53-38 win over Fenton for a 3-0 conference start.

Ackley figures he must have witnessed in the neighborhood of 900 games.

The first MHS basketball player of note was guard Gregg Boyle. Boyle played in the late 1970s and his records have just been erased by Kyle Kessel. An injury forced Boyle to end his college career early at Iowa.

The next great player was Sean Harlan, now at University of Illinois-Chicago.

Ackley's contributions are recognized by head coach Dennis Kessel.

"He is a great fan and understands basketball. He has saved me from a few technical fouls when I transposed some names," Coach Kessel said.

Ackley appreciates the talents of this year's squad.

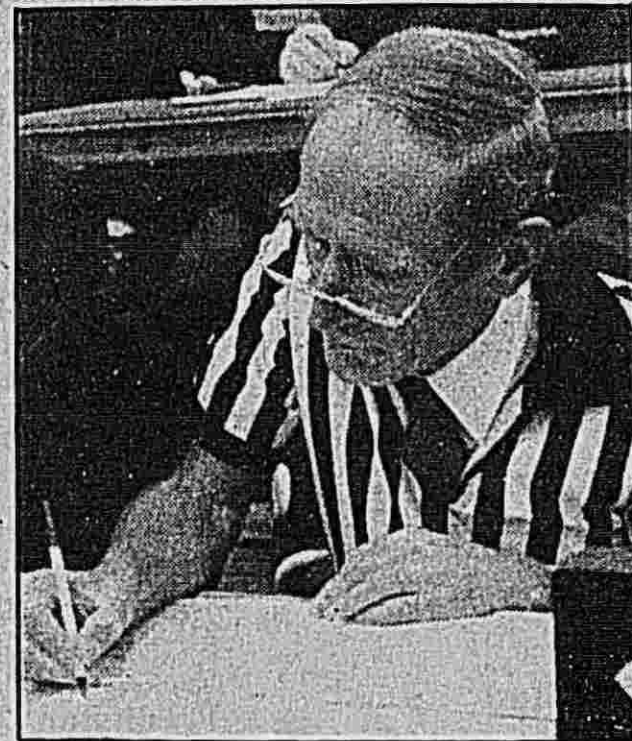

This is a fun team to watch. It takes a little bit of luck but this team could go downstate. But we have a tough regional and sectional," Ackley said.

Ackley was named to the state's hall-of-fame in 1991. His daughters were former MHS cheerleaders and his son, Scott, was a football and basketball manager.

Ackley said he enjoyed working with all three MHS coaches: Rich Starkey, who won more than 200 games, George Evans, and now Kessel.

Ackley is a former junior high coach who teaches at Mt. Prospect. He would never think to miss a Mustang game, though.

And who knows, maybe the Mustangs will join their veteran scorekeeper at Assembly Hall.

Mundelein High scorekeeper Jim Ackley checks score between third and fourth quarters of Mundelein-North Chicago game.

Cook has recipe for Grant as girls notch first victory

One monkey is now out of work.

The one which had held a firm grip on Grant High's girls basketball team let go Tuesday as Grant notched its first win of the season, 43-16 over Wauconda.

"We played good defense. It felt good to win after so many games in which we were right there," Coach John Schad said.

Cindy Cook led the Grant offense with 15 points on field goals and free throws.

"She can hit from the outside or go to the basket. She has worked real hard," Schad said.

Cook, a senior, started her career at freshman "B" level at Grant. "She is developing into an all-around player," Schad said.

Deb Fischer scored eight points as several Grant players scored.

Wauconda trailed only 7-5 after one. Renee Bailey led the Bulldogs with six points, but the team suffered its 10th straight loss.

"For a quarter and one-half, it was close," Schad said.

Grant had lost a 38-37 heartbreaker at Grayslake The Rams' Amy Artlet banked home a 38-footer for the difference.

Grant is at the Crystal Lake Central tourney Dec. 27 at 6 p.m. against the host Tigers.

Rams' Kerns to challenge defending state champion

Wrestling fans, in particular those who prefer to watch matches at 135 pounds, may do well to be in Gurnee Saturday morning.

For Grayslake's undefeated wrestler Joe Kerns, a junior, will be squaring off against the defending state champion, Dan Collins of Palatine.

Kerns is 10-0 and coming off a championship at the Wheeling tournament.

"Collins is Division I material, but I believe Joe can stay with him. But Joe has to take chances," Grayslake Coach Eric Skoog said.

Kerns, a junior, feels as though he has learned from the best Grayslake has had to offer.

"Kurt Onstad and Mike Kearby taught me a lot. They showed me moves I should not try and use," Kerns said.

Kerns was 32-8 last year and finished fourth at the Barrington sectional. He is single-minded toward his goal. "I want to go downstate," he said.

Kerns defeated Chris Cassutt of Lake

Zurich 13-4 in the title match. "Kerns dominated the whole match. His first round opponent was his toughest," Skoog said.

Kerns is rated sixth in the state.

Skoog said Kerns may improve on his skills.

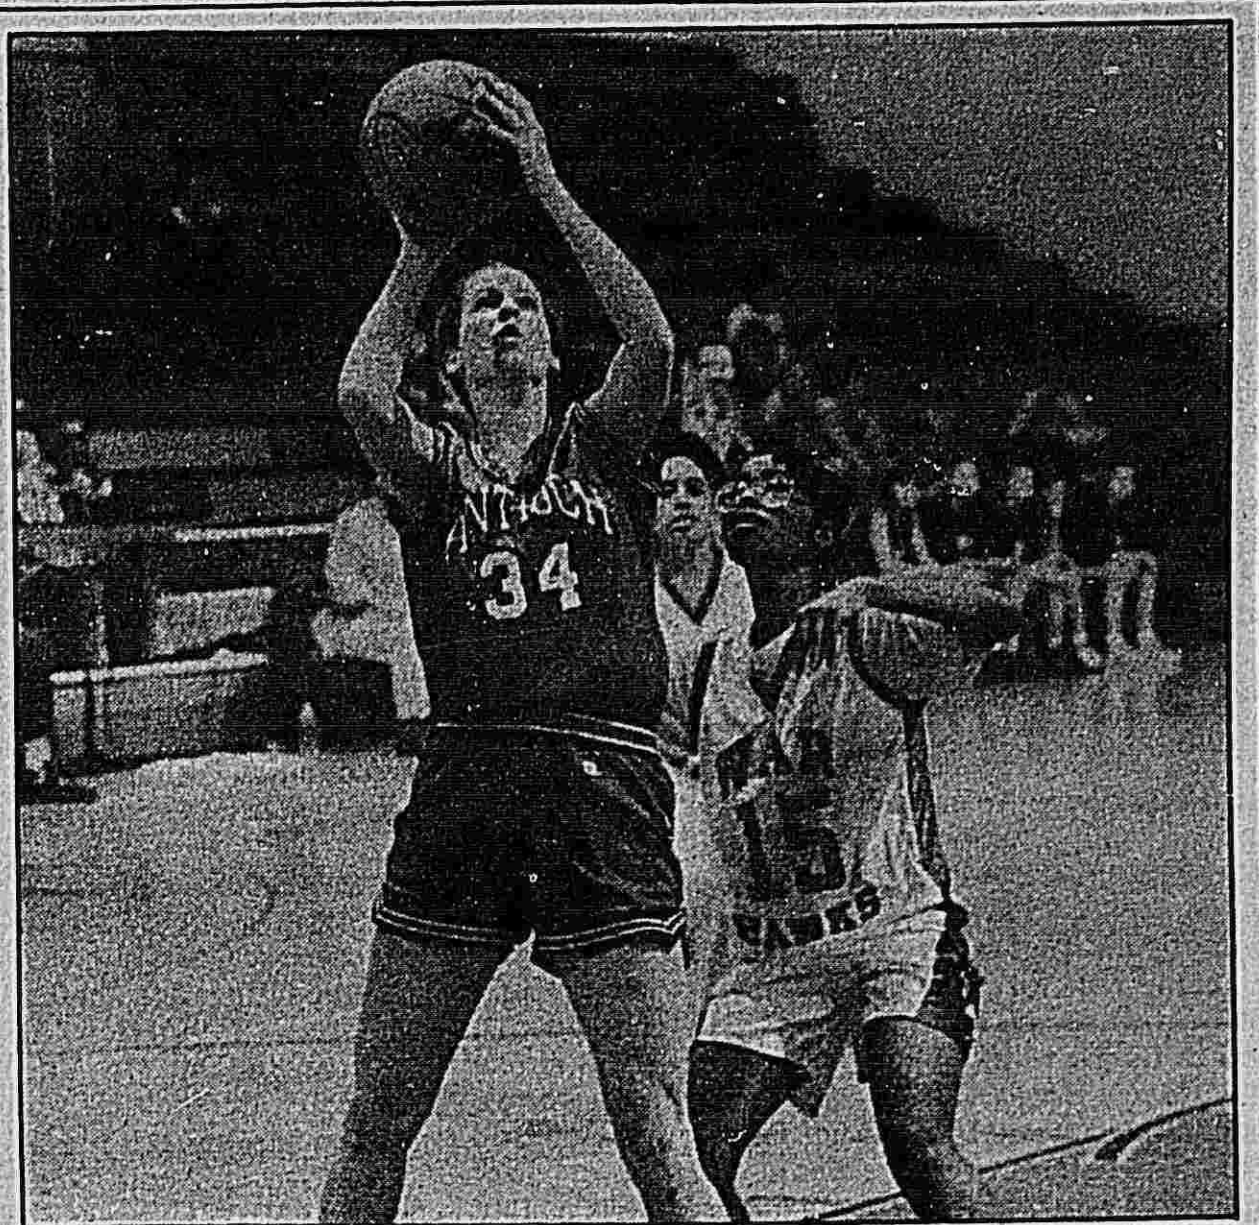

"He needs to work on his shots, but on takedowns, he is tough to beat," Skoog said.

In dual meets last week, Grayslake rallied from a three-point deficit for a 40-28 win over Wauconda. The Bulldogs were ahead 28-25 after the 160-pound matches. Eddie Pak at 171 and Bryan Wagner at 189 then came up with key wins.

Kerns won in a fall in 1:37, wrestling at 145 due to injuries.

In addition to facing Palatine at Warren, the Rams face Jacobs. Some of the varsity will be at Carmel's frosh-soph tourney.

In dual meets, Grayslake takes on Richmond-Burton and Marengo at Marengo Dec. 30.

Newcomb's play gives hope in latest conference defeats

After a last-second shot and a strong defensive performance by opponents, Antioch High's boys basketball team needs a break from the hardwood.

That is what the Sequoias will enjoy as their next game will not come until the Rockford Christmas tournament.

Antioch fell 62-59 to overtime in a game which marked the first win for North Chicago. Warren handled the Sequoias 50-39 to drop the team to 2-5 overall, 0-4 in the North Suburban Conference.

"We did not make our free throws. We had an eight-point lead in the fourth quarter," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said of the North Chicago game. Missing eight front ends of one-and-ones caught up with Antioch.

That allowed Warhawks' Anthony Varnado, a junior, to can the game winner.

Varnado finished with seven points. Willie St. George and Joe Walls Jr. led the way for the Warhawks with 14 points each.

"Willie St. George had a good game, but we shot ourselves in the foot," Dresser said.

"We are not playing bad, but we can't miss free throws when the game is on the line," Dresser said.

Dave Smith hit 10-for-12 from the free throw line, but Antioch could manage 3-for-14 for the rest of the team.

That negated some positives. "We played some good defense and rebounded with them," Dresser said.

One bright spot on both games was Don Newcomb. He scored 12 in the loss to Warren, 15 against the Warhawks.

Antioch held former teammate Jeff Woods of Warren to nine points. But Chris Kohn added 13 and Joe Bongratz 11. The key run was a 9-2 Warren spurt in the third quarter.

Antioch shocks tournament, prepares for key NSC tests

Antioch and Lyons squared off in what developed as a dual meet Saturday, with the Sequoits giving Lyons a run for its money before losing by five points.

The Sequoits also served notice on the rest of the North Suburban Conference they are for real with league wins over Fenton and Warren.

"It looked like an Antioch-Lyons dual meet in the finals. I hope we can meet them duel," Antioch Coach Ted Sieckowski said.

Antioch was seeking a spot in the top three at Buffalo Grove and claimed second to Lyons with 207 points. Chicago Bogan was a distant third with 109 points. The other area entry, Carmel was last with 28 points.

"I am coaching my fourth year with these guys and it is just terrific. They are very comfortable with the atmosphere and this is a unique group because I could coach them for seven years," Sieckowski said.

"They have risen to the occasion. I am really proud of this team."

Sieckowski was an assistant at Antioch Upper Grade School before taking the head high school job.

Gaining titles at Buffalo Grove were: Chris Petykowski, who defeated Mike Castillo 4-2 at 119 pounds; Jason Krause, with a 1-0 win over Lyons' David Word at 130 pounds; Chris Haag with a 12-7 decision over Brenden Presern of Lyons at 189; John Osmond with an 8-2 decision over Lyon's Matt Castella and Mike Shea with a pin over Buffalo Grove's Bill Halm in 5:07.

Antioch received strong second-place finishes from: Matt Hlinak at 103; Justin Dyer at 112; Steve Zalapi at 125; Jim Stevens at 140; Joe Earl at 145.

"Petykowski and Haag even though they wrestled well, they were a surprise," Sieckowski said.

Petykowski came through what the coach called "a tough field" to win at 119.

In the duals, Antioch raised its record to 4-1 with a 46-10 win over Fenton and the 49-15 win over the Blue Devils.

"Both teams are pretty young, but our young kids were more technically sound," Sieckowski said.

Against Fenton, Krause, Stevenson, Haag all won as did Osmond, Jason Breen at 152, Earl, Zalapi, Lucas and Justin Dyer and Petykowski.

Against Warren, the first three weight classes won by forfeit. Zalapi at 125, Krause at 130, Earl at 145, Osmond at 171, Hagg and Shea won by decision. The closest verdict was Osmond's 6-4 win over Gary Weir.

Warren wrestlers posting wins were Mike Ray at 135 with a 12-4 major decision over James Patterson and Dave McLellan with a fall at 160.

None of the Sequoits own unbeaten records, which the coach sees as a plus.

Antioch faced the battle of the favorites at Libertyville Dec. 16. The Sequoits are looking for another top tourney finish at Glenbrook South Dec. 18.

"We hope to place in the top five," Sieckowski said.

Waterway agency forms committee for referendum

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

Many with the same concerns for the Chain O' Lakes gathered together to attend the first formal meeting, forming a citizen's group in support of a referendum.

Whether or not the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway agency will stay aboard by next December, is still unknown, but residents and waterway officials are working their hardest at making sure it does.

On Thursday, Dec. 16 at 7:30 p.m., a large number of people including Superintendent of Grant Community High School Dr. Don Klusendorf, director of the agency Judy Martini, and Senator Jack Schaffer District 32 were to attend the meeting at the Mineola Hotel on Fox Lake.

"We need a kick-off to get our literature out and so on," said Chairman of the agency Dr. William C. Dam. On March 15, the agency plans on having a referendum on the ballots asking whether or not voters wish to continue with the work the agency has done on the lakes and rivers.

"It was a good year on the Chain O' Lakes and Fox River. The agency coordinated flood damage cleanup and was able to complete an ambitious dredging schedule in both Lake and McHenry counties simultaneously. The year's safety profile was excellent," said Dr. Dam.

"If they cease to exist, we're not going to be able to do anything," Dr. Dam explained.

Bucar appreciated by Illinois Optometric Assoc.

Linda C. Bucar of Antioch has received the Illinois Optometric Association (IOA) Auxiliary Recognition and Appreciation Award, the Auxiliary's highest award for extraordinary commitment and service. She accepted the award at the association's 1993 convention held in Peoria.

Bucar has been active in the IOA's Auxiliary for many years. She has served the organization as president, president-elect, membership trustee, and awards committee chair. She also initiated the "Auxiliary Children" program, which provides grants to the Lighthouse for the Blind to assist children with low vision requiring financial aid.

She is a member of the American Foundation of Vision Awareness and has served on several national AFVA committees, including the nominating and think tank committees. Bucar represented the IOA Auxiliary as a delegate at the annual AFVA House of Delegates for eight years.

In her community, Bucar is a member of the St. Peter's Catholic Church, the St. Peter's Woman's Club, and the Antioch Junior Woman's Club. She also owns and operates her own business designing accessories.

The Auxiliary of the IOA was formed to support the goals and ideals of the Illinois Optometric Association. Its primary mission is to preserve the gift of sight by promoting the availability and accessibility of eye and vision care to all people.

statistics, a person could conclude that Antioch is a dangerous place to live.

"This is a perfect example of how statistics do not tell the story," said Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller. "It is mainly our fault for conscientious reporting."

An incorrect reading of the statistics does cause concern for area business people, especially Realtors. Entrepreneurs may be reluctant to open up business here and prospective home buyers may be afraid to purchase a home.

One solution is to establish a standard for reporting. It would seem logical that all police departments should report all the crimes that occur in an area.

"Antioch is really a nice town," said Miller. "We devote our time to all crimes, not just the major ones."

Companies choose YMCA for child care programs

Hastings Lake YMCA has been chosen for its unique school-age child care programs to be a top option for the parents of many local companies.

In the current shortage of quality school-age child care, some companies have taken direct action in the search for quality care on behalf of their employees.

Allstate Insurance, Hewitt Associates, Kraft/General Foods, and Motorola, Inc., along with the American Business Collaboration for Quality Dependent Care, have awarded a contract to Hastings Lake YMCA for its excellent school-age program.

The "Y's" program, serves local families with a Before and After School Camp and Kindergarten Enrichment service. It is open to the community and serves most schools in the Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Woodland, and Antioch areas. The program is open for full days to school-agers on all holidays, vacation days, and teacher institute days.

Hastings Lake, with its flexible program, is now a designated Vacation/Holiday Program Provider for the participating corporations. This program will allow the "Y" to expand program participation to additional families. It also will enhance curriculum, provide for further staff training, and add additional supplies and materials to the program.

Families only need to register their child in the program and they will receive a monthly calendar that conveniently lists the days off of school. With a sign-up sheet to return, it makes for easy scheduling of child care. The program is also open to the community, as well as all participating corporations. For registration or further information, please contact: Andrea Warner, Child Care

YMCA registers for winter

The Lake County Family YMCA is taking registration for its winter session if classes Saturday, Dec. 18. The seven week set of classes begin Monday, Jan. 3, 1994. Over 200 class offerings are available for ages six months and older.

Preschool ages programs are, swim lessons, Parents Morning Out, Whiz Kids, tumbling, child care, gym classes and water carnivals.

Youth programs include, swim lessons, swim team, weight training, basketball, judo, Indian Guides, Fun Club and boating safety.

High School and adult choices are, swim lessons, CPR, Scuba, Water Exercise, STEP Aerobics, Hi/Low Aerobics and personal trainers.

Senior and special programs are; Water Exercise, Fitness Evaluations, Victory Adult Day Care, Adapted Aquacise, post stroke rehabilitation and weight training workshop for women.

For more information about YMCA programs call the Lake County Family YMCA at 360-YMCA (9622).

Volunteers recognized

Sixteen Lake County residents were honored at the Victory Lakes' Volunteer Luncheon. The volunteers were recognized for the hours of service they provide to the residents and staff at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center in Lindenhurst. Among those awarded hour pins was Antioch resident Melinda Flicek, 100 hours.

WIU graduates

More than 1,400 Western Illinois University students who will have completed their undergraduate and graduate degree requirements are eligible to be recognized at the 10 a.m. Saturday, Dec. 18 Commencement Exercises in Western Hall. Among those students is Antioch resident Vincent M. Zalapi.

Public Service

Albion College freshman Elizabeth Goodman has become a member of the Gerald R. Ford Institute for Public Service. The Ford Institute is designed to give exceptional students a change to broaden their education through concentrated study in areas of government and public service, regardless of their major. Students participate in a city government simulation and complete course work concerning political science, history, and ethics. Their education is continued through speakers brought to campus and an internship in an area of interest. The program also encourages students to seek leadership roles on campus. Goodman, a 1993 graduate of Antioch Community High School, is the daughter of James Goodman of Gurnee.

Pledges fraternity

Paul Helmert of Antioch has pledged Sigma Pi fraternity at Illinois Wesleyan Univ. He is a freshman studying business administration.

Ensure a safe holiday season—beware of fire pitfalls!

Christmas trees, decorative lights and cozy fireplaces all help to make the holidays cheery and festive. However, these items must be handled with care. In the whirlwind of holiday activities filled with family and friends, it's easy to overlook basic fire safety. To ensure a happy, safe holiday season, the Northern Illinois Chapter of the National Fire Sprinkler Assn. offers the following tips to help protect your family from fire.

Christmas trees

Fire resistant artificial trees offer the greatest safety. Check the packaging for details on the tree's fire resistance, lighting considerations and its proper floor placement in your home. If you prefer a live tree, make sure it's fresh. Check For:

- Color: A fresh tree is bright green.
- Needles: Fresh needles are hard to pull from branches, and when bent, do not break.
- Trunk: The trunk should be sticky with resin.

Resist the urge to put your Christmas tree next to the fireplace, or any other source of heat. In preparing your tree, cut off a couple of inches of trunk to expose fresh wood for better water absorption. Trim away bottom branches so you can set the tree trunk deep in the base of a sturdy tree stand. Don't forget to keep the stand filled with water while the tree is indoors. A dry Christmas tree is like a ticking firebomb. In seconds, it can go up in flames. When the tree's needles begin falling off, get rid of it by disposing it with the rest of your garbage. Burning your tree is illegal in most counties as well as being unsafe.

Holiday Lights

When using outdoor or indoor lights, first check to make sure they have been tested for safety and bear the "UL" (Underwriters' Laboratories) label. Before trimming the tree or house, check for damage such as exposed wires, loose prongs, and cracked or broken sockets. It's always a good idea to lay out the lights on a table, plug them in and let them burn for 10-15 minutes to check for smoking or melting. Avoid overloading extension cords or light strings—there should be no more than three sets of lights on an extension cord. When the holidays are over, carefully pack the lights away to prevent damage.

Candles

Absolutely never use candles as decorations on a Christmas tree. If you are going to use candles in your holiday decorating, do it the safe way. Keep them in nonflammable holders, placed where they cannot be knocked down or blown away, and where children can not get a hold of them. Leaving a candle unattended is dangerous, as a fire can develop and engulf a room in a minute or less.

Fires and Fireplaces

Fireplaces can be warm and cozy on a cold winter night, but exercise caution when making a fire. Before lighting, remove all greens, boughs, Christmas stockings, papers and other decorations from the fireplace area. Also, don't use the fireplace as an incinerator for burning holiday waste. Wrapping paper, ribbons and packaging can create a "flash fire", and produce toxic fumes in a poorly ventilated fireplace.

Smoke detectors

Buy, install and maintain a fire protection system throughout your home to help reduce the chance of a fire turning into a disaster. Acquaint your family with the sound of the smoke detector.

Victim recants her rape claim to police

by ALEC JUNG
Lakeland Newspapers

A woman who claimed she was abducted, raped and run over by her attacker has since recanted her story.

Lake County Sheriff's Department has concluded its phase of the investigation of the incident and doesn't believe the woman was raped. The alleged incident, according to the woman, occurred at The Deep End Tavern on Fifth Avenue between Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

"The claim that the woman was abducted and raped is unfounded," said Detective Bob Maze of the Lake County Sheriff's department. "In a follow up interview the witness recanted her story," Maze said.

Maze said the information from witnesses didn't square with what witnesses at the tavern said. The scene of the incident and the time sequences were investigated and the witness' story didn't add up.

"When we reconstructed the crime scene and statements from witnesses and the time frames, it couldn't happen the way she was telling us," Maze said. "She told us she made up the entire story."

The department believes she had consensual sex. The woman was struck by a car, but the investigators theorize she was intoxicated and walking on the west side on the eastbound lane on Grand Avenue and was struck in the leg by a passing motorist and found at 2:16 a.m. by Lake Villa Police.

The witness had claimed she was kidnapped from the bar, driven out to the Long Lake area and raped. She said after the rape, she was dropped out of the car and run over.

The investigation will be turned over to Lake Villa Police as a pedestrian hit-and-run. Lake Villa police had started the investigation originally and turned the case over to county police.

Leaf burning ban garners backing from county board

The State Senate bill 240 which would eliminate leaf burning in the state's most populous areas received a vote of confidence Tuesday.

The Lake County Board voted to adopt a resolution in support of the Senate Bill which is waiting Gov. James Edgar's signature. Robert Neal (R-Wadsworth) was the only board member present to vote no.

"Burning does impact your neighbor," State Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) said. "I have been amazed at the number of letters I have received from people who are seriously affected by leaf burning and suffer in the fall of the year."

Ben Peters of Wildwood appeared before the board. He has been active in seeking legislation for unincorporated areas.

Peters said the effort for the law grew after two Lake-In-The Hills youths were found dead due to smoke, possibly from burning leaves.

The law would apply for the 17 most populous counties in Illinois. Towns under 1,000 and agriculture reasons would be exempt.

"This is for landscape waste, too, so it is a lot more than leaves," board member Colin McRae said.

Neal said the Village of Wadsworth opposes the bill because of the number of large lots.

Rockenbach plans new facility

After almost 68 years in the same location, Rockenbach Chevrolet/Geo is moving a mile down the road to the corner of Atkinson and Rte. 120.

"The business has grown much beyond this facility," said Gary Rockenbach.

The original building still remains at the corner of Park Ave. and Belvidere Rd. A number of additions increased the facility to include five different buildings on four acres. That will change.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland
Newspapers

Warning tickets

My concern is about all these cars with one headlight driving at night. I have called the police. I wish that someone could help me to get the police to give out warning tickets to these one-eyed cars.

Incentive plan

Maybe if Clint Grinnell keeps the food as lousy as "Real punishment" says it is, it will cut down on the recidivism rate.

Who is suing who?

If the person went to board meetings, who complained about the Larry Erickson case, they would know that the school is the defendant. Erickson is suing them. Wake up.

He disagrees

Do you know which fine American said, "The way to solve all the social woes of this country is to start teaching sex education at two years of age, give condoms to anyone who wants them, and legalize drugs." The answer is the Surgeon General. The truth is, this society needs to go back to where it belongs, God and Family.

Christmas spirit

I wanted to wish you all a Merry Christmas. No one should be alone on Christmas.

Carnivore clothes

Those who are against leaf burning should also be against fireplaces and barbecuing. I agree, however, that the only place fur belongs is on an animal. There are enough man-made materials to make clothing. Only hunters and those that eat the meat should wear fur or leather.

Union talk

"Enough is enough" has it backwards. It is the employees doing things to the school board. That is the union talking. Rumor is that the union will walk next year.

Towering problem

I understand the town that Lake Villa wants to put up 10 towers with sirens for the whole township of Lake Villa. I think that 10 towers are dumb. It will look terrible. I don't think we need them and we don't want them. The villages of Lake Villa and Lindenhurst want to put up towers, let em. We don't want them.

Enough said

In my opinion, once you have committed a crime, you have taken away the rights of someone else. Therefore, you don't deserve good food. Enough said.

Quite complaining

The way I look at it, people are doing a lot of complaining in this paper and they don't have much of a life. They could turn the complaining into something good. I lost my job and I am only one of quite a few. But, I want to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays. Everybody have a good one.

His history lesson

It is time for a history lesson. Halloween started to ward off the evil spirits in the past. You dressed up in costume and roamed the streets to keep the evil spirits away from everybody's homes. It has nothing to do with worshipping the devil, morons.

Anti-center

I agree with the caller about the Christian Regional Center. It will draw a lot of traffic to Route 120 and historic Hainesville will have a whole new look with the big signs.

Also, who would make up the money lost on that property? Trustees, please vote no.

Good friend

I am calling to defend my friend who wrote "Happy holidays, not." He was very depressed at the time because he just broke up with his girlfriend. I do not want anyone to call and yell at him.

Mad at church

I bet you are Catholic and it is why you censor comments that expose some of Christian's religious falsehoods. The Catholic Church, calls herself the foundation of truth, but then opposed the search. It signifies that they no longer have faith in her beliefs. The church has been full of corruption since it began.

Open invitation

In response to "Not invited," the Wauconda School Board invited all area elected officials to a recent meeting to talk about reestablishing the Community Council. The person who called last week to say they weren't invited was misinformed. Notices of the meeting went to area governmental offices who were asked to send a representative. Notices and stories were also carried in the newspaper. District 118 made it clear that the meeting was open to the public. By the way, the community calendar project was restarted by the FACTs group and the Island Lake Chamber of Commerce.

Crimeless

I am a resident of Lake Villa and have noticed that there has been no crime reported in past two weeks. What great news! Think of the money we can save by reducing the police force to two or three people. How many officers could we need with no crime? Or, are the police trying to hide something?
